

Washington Is Shocked By Effort to Sink Orduna

Captain of Big Cunard Liner, Reaching New York, Reports German Submarines Attacking the Vessel Without Warning—Carried 227 Passengers, 21 of Whom Were Americans—Washington Recalls Ambassador Bernstorff's Word Given to Secretary Lansing That There Would Be No Repetition of the Lusitania Horror

By Associated Press.

New York, July 17.—The British liner Orduna, with 227 passengers aboard, 21 of whom were Americans, was attacked without warning by a German submarine at 6 o'clock in the morning of July 9, 16 hours out of Liverpool on her way to New York. Announcement of this attack was made by the ship's captain, Thomas Taylor, and passengers, when the Orduna reached here today. A torpedo was fired at the steamer and missed it by ten yards.

Twenty minutes later a submarine rose to the surface, possibly a different submarine from the one that launched the torpedo, and for half an hour thereafter pursued the steamer, firing shells which whistled over the decks above the heads of passengers standing there with their life belts on.

Ten minutes before the attack a sailing ship, with two American flags painted on her sides, was seen ahead. Captain Taylor became suspicious of this craft and began manoueuering his ship. Then came the attack, the first warning of which was the streak of a torpedo, which whirled through the water and missed the Orduna's stern by ten yards or thereabouts.

Passengers were hurriedly aroused and assembled on deck. Life belts were adjusted and lifeboats swung out. For half an hour the submarine pursued the liner which was going ahead at full speed.

Seven shots were fired by the submarine, in all. Four of them passed over the decks; the other three fell close to the ship. Then the submarine, distanced, gave up the chase.

Captain Taylor refused to say anything about the attack, except to declare the Orduna was not given the slightest warning. A number of the passengers declared they believed the submarine was hiding behind the sailing ship.

Among the 21 Americans aboard was William O. Thompson, of Chicago, who is counsel for the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations. Mr. Thompson, upon his arrival here, said he would write a protest to Washington, setting forth the details of the attack as he saw it.

Mr. Thompson was very indignant. He said the attack was deliberate, and pointed out it was upon a west-bound liner not heavily laden with cargo and carrying no ammunition whatever. This, he said, he expected to embody in his protest to the administration at Washington.

The day after the attack the first cabin passengers met and formally adopted resolutions lauding Captain Taylor for his conduct and skill.

One passenger, who watched the affair, through glasses, said he thought the name of the sailing ship was the "Normanie." In this connection it was recalled here today that the American bark Normandy reached Liverpool July 12, three days after the Orduna was attacked.

Upon her arrival there, members of her crew said the Normandy was stopped by a German submarine and forced to act as a shield for the submarine while a Russian vessel was sunk. This occurred, the Normandy crew said, on the night of July 9. The Orduna was attacked on the morning of July 9, and the scene of the attack was about 20 miles distant from the spot where the Russian ship was sunk.

Washington, July 17.—News of the attack of the Cunard Orduna upsets the theory of some officials here that Germany, while not yielding in the American diplomatic demands that unarmed ships be warned of attack in accordance with international law, was, in practice, observing that procedure.

On that theory much hope had been built for the successful effect of the diplomatic representations brought about by the Lusitania disaster.

In spite of their theory, officials had pointed out that the British ships Armenian and Anglo-Californian, on both of which American lives were lost, were warned in accordance with law before attack. Inasmuch as both attempted to escape, and one actually did, the United States held it could give its subjects, in those cases, no relief.

The view that Germany was now conducting her submarine warfare in accordance with the principles for which the United States contends has been so confidently entertained in official quarters, that the attack on the Orduna came as little less than a shock. Only yesterday the German ambassador expressed to Secretary Lansing his confidence that there would not be another disaster like the Lusitania.

Normal Conditions Expected by Tomorrow—West Side Columbus Residents Move to Safety and River Is Constantly Patrolled—Damage in State Is Very Heavy.

By Associated Press.

Lima, July 17.—The Ottawa river has dropped rapidly and by tomorrow will be at normal level. Men are still stationed at the bridges, keeping wreckage from piling up.

Limited traffic has been permitted across all bridges. Families are coming down from higher land and moving back into their houses in the lowlands.

In the portions of the city not touched by the flood much damage was done by flooded cellars, where articles stored were ruined.

Late last night the police rescued half a dozen families marooned on a small island where the force of the water was weakening their houses.

Damage at Harrod, 8 miles east of Lima, was also severe. Fifteen houses were damaged or demolished and the Methodist church was destroyed. Damage to crops will

DISASTER CREDITED TO KAISER

By Associated Press.

London, July 17.—"Torpedoes fired by a submarine of German nationality" caused the loss of the steamship Lusitania and its passengers, according to the findings of the court of inquiry appointed to investigate the disaster. The court held that no blame for the tragedy attached to either Captain Turner, commander of the vessel, nor the Cunard Line, the owners.

The court also found that "the Lusitania was sunk with the intention of destroying the lives of the people on board." The report also declares that life boats and life belts facilities were adequate; that the demeanor of the crew was above all blame, and that the conduct of the passengers, barring a slight panic when the steerage passengers came on deck, was praiseworthy.

Germans Begin Titanic Offensive Movement Against Russia—With Determination to Envelope and Annihilate Her Armies—Russians Drive Austrians Back and Claim a Rout—French Losses at Arras Placed at 74,800 Men.

By Associated Press.

London, July 17.—A new German offensive of huge proportions, with Riga, a great Russian seaport, and the seat of the governor general of the Baltic provinces as its objective, is revealed in the latest Berlin and Petrograd official statements.

Military experts here construed the offensive to be a vast envelopment movement in which the Germans are making a Herculean effort to destroy the Russian army.

Official statements agree that the Germans are at the Windau river, near Goldingen, only 80 miles from Riga, the great strategic commercial metropolis upon the upper Baltic.

Petrograd announces details of fierce fighting along the new line in efforts to hold back the German advance, which now is being concentrated on Riga and on Warsaw, while the Austrians are moving northward from the Dniester river.

Advices say the Germans left a trail of desolation along the Baltic Sea from Memel to Libau, where villas, hotels and casinos are alleged to have been destroyed.

Latest statements from Petrograd say the Russians are holding the Germans to the north of Warsaw, and an unofficial reports says the Austrians have been driven back across the Dniester, where their retreat is being turned in to a rout.

SEEKS LEGAL STATUS FOR EDISON BOARD

Daniels Confident Congress Will Approve His Proposal

Washington, July 17.—If Secretary of the Navy Daniels carries out present plans he will recommend to congress at the coming session that the Edison board of inventions be given a legal status and that a large appropriation be made available to enable Mr. Edison and his associates to conduct experiments on a large scale. The secretary of the navy is confident that congress will approve his proposal to establish this board, which Mr. Daniels believes will evolve ideas and devices that will make the United States navy one of the most formidable fighting machines in the world. In a discussion Mr. Daniels mentioned that Mr. Edison is already at work on a battery which it is hoped will prove powerful enough to give submarines the wide steaming radius necessary to bring them up to the highest state of efficiency. The Edison battery is to be installed in submarines now building, and if it comes up to expectations it will solve a problem that has given naval experts great concern. It is well known, of course, that at the outset of its endeavors the Edison board will pay special attention to the development of air craft and submarines. Mr. Daniels also took occasion to say that the department experts had given some thought to a "mother" submarine large enough to carry supplies from a base to other boats actively engaging an enemy. He expressed interest in reports that a submersible cruiser had been devised abroad, especially designed to make warfare on battleships.

Secretary Daniels was enthusiastic over his interview with Mr. Edison. He declared that the great scientist had expressed the liveliest interest in the proposed board of invention and that he gladly accepted the invitation of Mr. Daniels to serve on it. Mr. Edison said that an invitation to perform such service amounted to national recognition by the United States government, comparable to orders of merit and decorations conferred by European powers.

Contrary to expectations there was no decision at the conference between Mr. Daniels and Mr. Edison as to the personnel of the board. This point will be settled through correspondence between the secretary and Mr. Edison and others, who will be asked to give their advice.

ment gave formal notice that the United States holds that the rights of Americans who have cases before the British prize courts rest upon international law and not upon various British orders in council or munition law. Ambassador Page presented the notice to the London foreign office.

Secretary Lansing explained that this communication was not to be confused with the general note now in preparation relating to contraband and interference with American commerce on the high seas. He said it was more in the nature of a legal caveat, conserving the rights of citizens of the United States whose cases are about to be tried by English prize courts.

Inasmuch as the prize courts have not yet ruled on any American cases and are believed to be about to do so, the statement from the United States signifies in effect that if there is a denial of justice, diplomatic protests will be entered, based on the general principles of international law existing before the outbreak of the war.

The United States has in its formal notes given Great Britain, as well as Germany, general notice to this effect, and the statement now sent draws particular attention to the prize court cases pending.

NAMES LIQUOR BOARD

Columbus, July 17.—Governor Willis announced the appointment of members of the state liquor license board, as follows: Frank Hay, Republican, of Canton, to succeed Charles L. Allen, Progressive, whose term expires Aug. 1, and M. M. Rose, Republican, of Marietta, to succeed J. Howard Secrest, Democrat, who tendered his resignation to take effect Aug. 7. The McDermott district license law, which abolishes the state commission, goes into effect Sept. 3. Hay is a business man, and was secretary of the Stark county Republican executive committee in the last campaign. Rose formerly was postmaster of Marietta. His brother, ex-Senator I. R. Rose, was the author of the Rose county option law. The third member of the commission, Bryan Clendenning, Democrat, will remain.

BECKER'S LIFE IN THE BALANCE

New York, July 17.—Charles Becker's three lawyers, W. Bourke Cockran, John F. McIntyre and Martin T. Manton, spent the day discussing the pros and cons of the John Doe hearing suggested by Mr. McIntyre as a means for proving their client's innocence of the murder for which he is to die on July 28. As far as the net results of their conference could be learned they have not yet definitely decided to drop the plan to bring about such an inquiry, although many obstacles difficult to surmount will present themselves. One of the chief difficulties would be to get Jack Rose and Bridgie Webber to testify at such a hearing. Rose lives in Connecticut and Webber's home is now in Passaic. A subpoena served outside this state would have no power.

THAW SPENDS DAY IN SURF

New York, July 17.—Harry K. Thaw, declared sane by Supreme Court Justice Peter W. Hendrick and released from custody on $35,000 bail when the state attorneys objected, left the county courthouse, climbed into an automobile and led a procession of five motorcars into Newark, N. J., where he dined. Great mobs cheered Thaw at Newark. Thaw said he would motor to Pittsburgh, whence he would leave for the San Francisco fair. He is accompanied by Norman Fitzsimmons, his private detective and bodyguard, who will be with Thaw on his proposed motor trip to the Pacific coast. Thaw is spending the day in Atlantic City.

State Fund Work Crippled.
Columbus, July 17.—Work of building good roads by the state highway department will be crippled this year because the funds available are $1,250,000 less than the department had to spend last year. State Highway Commissioner Clinton Cowan and State Budget Commissioner Edward M. Fullington, in a joint letter sent to the eighty-eight boards of county commissioners in Ohio, show this decrease of funds was caused by the cut made by the extra session of the legislature in 1914 in the road levy and the necessity of using part of this year's income to care for contracts made by Former Commissioner Marker in excess of the funds he had at his disposal last year.

Cedarhurst, L. I., July 17.—The German government will in the near future issue a new "white book," to refute the charges of Belgian atrocities contained in the Bryce commission report.

It was said at the summer embassy here that the new "white book" will be most painstaking and will give names and dates, specific instances, details and figures in full. It is now being prepared in Berlin and will be made public soon. An English translation will be given out at the embassy here.

Officials connected with the embassy denied any knowledge of the letters that have been sent in quantities to American business men, criticizing arms shipments and warning the recipients to "be careful of the German actor" in this country. The letters are entirely unsanctioned by the embassy, it was said.

Fining the Unfortunates

One police court judge in the United States has hit upon the idea of adopting an ever increasing scale of fines to impose on the habitual drunkards who are, at regularly recurring periods, arraigned at the bar of his court.

That particular judge would increase the fine first assessed by fifty per cent on the second offense and by thirty-three and a third per cent on the third offense and so on up an ever ascending scale.

That plan, of course, is designed to aid in the accomplishment of a very laudable purpose—to punish the drunkard and to put a stop to intemperate drinking.

The plan is in perfect accord with the prevailing idea underlying the present method of procedure in such matters.

It requires, however, very little thought on an ever present problem for one to arrive at the conclusion that there is something vitally wrong in the whole plan of dealing with petty offenders, especially the habitual drunkard.

That the infliction of heavy fines does not assist, appreciably, in reducing the number of unfortunates who daily stand at the bar of the police courts of the land must be admitted.

And, after all is said and done, is it right that organized society—that branch of it charged with law enforcement and the maintenance of order, should obtain a considerable portion of its revenue from the pockets of unfortunates whose families and friends must endure want and suffering because the state has exacted a penalty in money from the breadwinner who falls by the wayside.

Would it not be well to try some other plan for a while since the present one has proven inadequate? Instead of making drunkenness and other derelictions a source of revenue to the state, increasing in a ratio corresponding with the short comings and failures of frail human beings, to assess the fine and exact the penalty from those responsible for the evil? Would it not be better, would it not be more just to collect a toll from the parties responsible, primarily, for the offense than it would be to exact money from the victims of another's wrong?

In the more serious crimes those primarily guilty are visited with the penalty and the victims go free. Why should a different rule obtain as to drunkenness and kindred petty evils and offenses purely social in character?

Would not organized society and the interests of humanity be better served by fining the real culprits and paying over the money collected to those dependent for support upon the efforts of the victim of another's crime?

The taxpayers of the land could well afford to pay the cost of maintaining inferior courts conducted along the lines indicated. The benefit to society in being relieved of the burden of supporting those dependent upon those unfortunates whose money is taken away from them and whose senses are numbed and muscles paralyzed, by the traffickers in that which unfits men for work would certainly exceed the cost of conducting the inferior courts. Would not the other social evils be more quickly stamped out by reaching out for and punishing those who support vice rather than by levying tribute upon those unfortunates condemned to a short life of suffering and anguish?

At any rate those who advocate such a plan—a right about face in the present method, which does seem fundamentally wrong—have the satisfaction of seeing the ranks of those who support them in their contention, growing larger day by day.

Packers Complain of England

The American meat packers are justly indignant over the action of Great Britain in interfering with commerce between this nation and neutral nations.

Enduring in silence as long as possible the operation of a policy adopted by Great Britain which has cost American shippers heavily, the meat packers have now presented their grievances to the State Department asking that some affirmative and positive action be taken by the United States government which will put a stop to conduct absolutely without defense and the only result of which is to hamper, if not entirely destroy, American trade.

American shippers are now boldly asserting that the halting of American vessels engaged in trade with neutral countries is purposely done with a view to destroying the American trade. American shippers also claim that the delays in final action of the prize courts is unreasonable, unnecessary and the result of a determination to render American commerce even with neutral nations, unprofitable.

A policy to kill the American business by unwarranted interruption and unnecessary delays is alleged to be the real purpose of the British authorities operating under a plan designed more to protect English commerce than as a necessary war measure.

The conditions are already serious and fully warrant this nation in adopting a firm policy supporting its demands for relief from oppressive and unnecessary conditions.

This nation must "lay down the law" to England in a manner fully as emphatic as that adopted toward Germany. American lives must be protected from Germany's undersea raiders and American commerce must be protected from destruction by Great Britain's arbitrary seizures.

Poetry For Today

I REMEMBER! I REMEMBER!

I remember, I remember,
The house where I was born;
The little window where the sun
Came peeping in at morn,
You'd hardly know the old place now
For dad is up to date,
And the farm is scientific
From the back lot to the gate.

The house and barn are lighted
With bright acetylene,
The engine in the laundry
Is run by gasoline.
We have silos, we have autos,
We have dynamos and things;
A telephone for gossip,
And a phonograph that sings.

The hired man has left us,
We miss his homely face;
A lot of college graduates
Are working in his place.
There's an engineer and fireman,
A chauffeur and a vet.,
Electrician and mechanic—
Oh, the farm's run right, you bet.

The little window where the sun
Came peeping in at morn,
Now brightens up a bathroom
That cost a car of corn.
Our milkmaid is pneumatic
And she's sanitary, too;
But dad gets fifteen cents a quart
For milk that once brought two.

Our cattle came from Jersey,
And the hogs are all Duroc;
The sheep are Southdown beauties
And the hens are Plymouth Rock.
To have the best of everything—
That is our aim and plan—
For dad not only farms it,
But he's a business man.

The old fashioned pugilistic champion who used to fight with his fists now has a successor who fights with his fountain pen and his mouth.

Ever notice that the man with the least money is always the fellow who has the most places to put it?

Any woman would rather be in style and look like a soured kitchen mechanic out for a night than wear something that is not stylish and look as though she had good sense.

Go into any bedroom in any house in town and you will find that the closet is so jammed full of friend wife's clothes that friend husband has to hang his rags on the floor or on a chair. But if you will listen around for awhile you will hear friend wife bawling out friend husband because she hasn't any clothes.

When a little paperweight is courting a big corn fed girl the paperweight will sit on the corn fed's knee and call her his "little girl" and tell her that he will protect her. And, instead of rapping him with the fly swatter and sweeping him out, the corn fed lets him live because she, too, is in love and believes that the paperweight is the biggest man ever invented.

You can't blame a married man for not wanting to listen to advice when he is downtown. He gets plenty of it when he is at home.

And a woman can tell you that she could have rosy cheeks, too, if she smeared on a lot of rouge and was not content to dab on a little invisible pink.

Before he gets her he thinks she is a bird of paradise. After he gets her he has a suspicion that she belongs a little farther south than paradise.

The fool men never notice what the women are wearing. So the women compel them to pay some attention to what they are not wearing.

Some men waste an awful lot of time telling other people not to waste their time.

What has become of the old fashioned girl who fainted every now and then?

It often happens that you will wonder why a man wears whiskers and then he will have them shaved off and you quit wondering why.

CAMERAMAN SHOT AT FRONT

Intrepid Movie Photographer Hurt Taking War Pictures

PRESENT AT PRZEMYSL SIEGE

Shrapnel Hits Photo Man With Besieging Troops—Petrograd Grants Him Russian Decoration for Bravery.

It's a long, long way from New York to the place with the unforgettable, unpronounceable name, Przemyśl, but it seems less when one sees certain very fine pictures of the siege in the Pathe News pictures and learns that the special correspondent, Ercole, who took them, has been wounded and decorated for bravery under trying conditions.

When it was learned that Przemyśl was destined to become famous in spite of its name, the Pathe News sent its special war correspondent in Russia, Mr. Ercole, straight to the Galician front to the Russian army besieging the city. He was sent there to get pictures, and he did so. While he was turning his camera he was hit by a piece of shrapnel and painfully wounded, but he did not cease to turn and in consequence has been decorated by the Imperial Government of Russia with the Cross of the Order of St. George.

His films were rushed by way of the Pathe Agencies in Moscow, Stockholm and London to the United States, so on the very day the newspapers were using their 57 different ways of pronouncing Przemyśl to tell the public that the Austrian fortress had fallen, all over the United States people were seeing in the "News" one of the big scoops of the year.

Mr. Ercole is not resting on his laurels. He has been sent to another place where important things are going to happen, and in consequence expects shortly to put over another big scoop.

U. S. REGULARS IN BIG FEATURE

Mackenzie Uses Cavalry in Stirring Scenes.

Donald Mackenzie, the Pathe producer, has just finished making a four-reel feature called "The Fortunes of Peter," which has all the earmarks of a notable success. Mr. Mackenzie had a cast of well-known players, most of whom have already achieved fame on the screen. George Probert, who won golden opinions as Oskar Von Guggen in "Innocent" and the Cadet in "The Lure," has the lead and this picture marks his debut before the camera. Mr. Probert confesses that his first two days of picture acting were little less than torture to him. The sight of the lens staring at him all the time was infinitely more dreadful than the batteries of critical eyes on a big "opening night."

Paul Panzer, after weeks of successful vaudeville touring, returns to the screen again in this picture. Mr. Panzer, it will be remembered, made himself the best-bated villain in the country through his work as "Owen" in "The Perils of Pauline."

Other members of the cast are Miss Alma Martin, a popular favorite in the "legitimate," Sam Ryan, who has been in many Pathe pictures, and Charles Bunnell, who was with the Pathe St. Augustine Company in the winter of 1913-14.

The picture required hundreds of supers and Mr. Mackenzie made arrangements for a troop of cavalry, regulars of the United States Army, to appear in a number of stirring scenes.

George Brackett Seltz wrote the scenario.

Decomposing Water.

Water is decomposed or separated into its constituent gases by passing a continuous current of electricity through it. An ordinary zinc and copper voltaic battery gives sufficient amperage and also voltage to separate the oxygen and hydrogen. Oxygen goes to the pole connected with the copper plate and hydrogen to the zinc pole or plate. The volume of hydrogen is double that of the oxygen, and both are chemically pure. Steam, if passed over red hot iron, surrenders its oxygen to the atoms of the metal, while hydrogen is given off pure and free.—New York American.

BRICK POSTOFFICE IS NOW PROSPECT FOR WASHINGTON

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, Following the Economy Program, Adopts a Classification of New Postoffice Building Proposals.

WASHINGTON'S HOPES FOR FINE BUILDING MAY BE SHATTERED

Congressmen From Ohio Valley States Are Emphatic in Their Objections and Promise to Attend to McAdoo if He Persists.

Plans of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to reduce the cost of public buildings and thus to relieve the drain on the national treasury has created quite a rumpus generally. So strong has the opposition been declaring itself that one member of Congress from the Ohio valley states announced that Congress would take Mr. McAdoo "in hand" as soon as it convened even intimating that Congress would "take the hide off the secretary of the treasury for usurping the functions of Congress.

Secretary McAdoo's plan of classification, made public yesterday, includes classes A, B, C, and D.

It is worth Class C. in the secretary's classification with which Washington C. H. people are interested.

Class C.—Buildings that include a postoffice of the second class with receipts of $15,000 or more and of the first class up to $60,000 receipts; valuation of surrounding property that of a second-class city. Character of building to be erected: Brick facing with stone or terra-cotta trimmings; fireproof floors; nonfireproof roof; frames, sashes and doors, wood; interior finish to exclude the more expensive woods and marbles, the latter used only where sanitary conditions demand; public spaces restricted to very simple forms of ornaments.

Under this classification "marble" Government palaces would become dreams in the Ohio valley, and the following cities on the building list would even fail to qualify for sand stone or limestone, and would have to be content with common brick:

Ohio—Alliance, Bellaire, Bellefontaine, Bowling Green, Cambridge, Conneaut, Coshocton, Defiance, Delphos, Elyria, Fremont, Gallipolis, Ironton, Jackson, Kenton, Lancaster, Logan, Lorain, Marion, Martin's Ferry, Massillon, Middletown, Millersburg, Napoleon, New Philadelphia, Niles, Piqua, St. Marys, Salem, Sidney, Steubenville, Tiffin, Urbana, Van Wert, Washington C. H., Wilmington, Wooster, Xenia.

GUY THOMPSON TO BE BURIED HERE

The body of Mr. Guy Thompson, who was killed when his automobile was struck by a B. & O. freight train in Greenfield Friday afternoon, arrived here Saturday at noon in the McCoy ambulance car, and was taken to the McCoy undertaking parlors. It was removed at half past two o'clock to the home of Mr. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Thompson, on Broadway.

Mr. A. J. Thompson reached Greenfield as soon as possible after receiving the sad word Friday afternoon.

While badly crushed the unfortunate man was little disfigured. According to his father, Mr. Thompson had stopped at the street crossing while the switching train passed over the intersection. He then started forward. The train went but a short distance beyond the crossing, throwing a box car into a switch and starting back. This, the man in the automobile apparently did not see, an adjacent factory obstructing his view.

The result was that he was struck by the backing train.

Mr. Thompson's many friends in this city and county were shocked to learn of his death. His widow, left with seven children, the oldest thirteen years, the youngest a baby, was prostrated when the sad news reached her. Mr. Thompson had left home intending to come on to Washington.

Mrs. Thompson arrived this afternoon and funeral arrangements were made after her arrival. Services will be held Monday at the Presbyterian church, Rev. P. J. Henness officiating.

TELEPHONE PROPERTY WAS BADLY TREATED

An idea of the great extent of the damage done to the local telephone properties by the big storm of last week, may be gained from the fact that more than 100 linemen have been constantly at work in Fayette county since the tornado repairing wires and poles.

The Bell company suffered most. More than 80 linemen have been at work on Bell property in the county since the storm and will be occupied several days yet. The forty or more Citizen phone linemen will finish up Saturday. It is expected. No accurate estimate of the money loss in Fayette has been arrived at.

POLICE STILL PROBING TRAIN SHOOTING CASE

Within the past few days the police have again turned their attention to the mysterious shooting case of a few weeks ago, when someone fired three revolver shots through the midnight B. & O. flyer as it passed through Logtown, fortunately injuring no one.

John Waldon was arrested at the time and was later released. Chief Moore says he believes he will be able to construct a pretty strong case.

STATE EXAMINERS ARE VISITING COURT HOUSE

State examiner T. W. Jones, of Columbus, and W. F. Bowen, of Logan, from the state auditor's office, made their appearance at the court house Saturday and began an inspection of all records and departments.

The inspection was begun in the county treasurer's office. The work will take at least six weeks.

TO BUILD CONCRETE WALL AROUND COURT HOUSE YARD

Commissioners Award Contract to John Markley—Several Bridge Contracts Are Let.

The county commissioners, in session Saturday, awarded a contract to John Markley for the construction of a concrete wall, two and one half feet in height, bordering the court house property on Main and Market streets, from the Sharp memorial to the Sheriff's residence.

The figures of the contract were $476.97. The work is to be undertaken at once. The improvement will prevent the washing of earth from the premises onto the street in rainy weather.

Several bridge contracts also were let at the meeting.

The Oregonian Bridge Company was awarded a contract for the construction of a new steel bridge over Thompson's fork on the Danville pike. The consideration was $942. Contract for concrete abutments for this bridge was given to Hays & Bell. The amount is $707.

The Champion Bridge Company was awarded a contract for the reinforcing, with steel beams, of the flooring in an iron bridge on the Chillicothe pike, near the John Townsley property. The amount of the contract was $120.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENED TODAY

The Chautauqua is opening auspiciously this afternoon, with a concert of instrumental music by the Cartwright Quartet, preceding a lecture by Dr. Arthur Wadsworth Evans, the Welsh orator, noted for his keen wit.

Tonight the Cartwright Quartet will give a concert at 7:30 and Noah Beilharz, impersonator presents "The Hoosier School Master," at 8:15.

Sunday promises to be a big day at the Chautauqua. The Brewer Musical Entertainers give a sacred concert at 2:30 p. m., and John R. Bonbraman, editor "Countrywide Magazine," delivers a sermon-lecture on "The Community and its Children," at 8:15 p. m.

A Sermon-lecture, "America, Whence, Whither?" by Bishop Wm. M. Bell, of Los Angeles, is also on the program for Sunday afternoon.

Season tickets went on sale Saturday at $2.50 as advertised.

BONNIE WREATH AGAIN A WINNER

Local horses have been in the money this week at the Youngstown and Tiffin races.

Wert Mallow won the $500 purse race with Bonnie Wreath, Gil Perrill's pacer, at Youngstown. This is the second time Bonnie Wreath has won this season under Mr. Mallow's driving, the first time at Coshocton.

Black Hawk, the pacer owned by John Perrill, won third in the 2:15 pace at Tiffin and Hydrie, driven by Mr. Mallow, fourth in the 2:10 pace.

UPHOLDS AD. LAW

Judge Alexander in a municipal court at Cincinnati held in the case of Charles Scheingold that the new Ohio honest advertising law is constitutional and that Scheingold will have to stand trial on the merits of the case.

The statute makes it a misdemeanor for any one to advertise any assertion, representation or statement which is "untrue or deceptive." A fine of from $10 to $100 or imprisonment for twenty days or both is provided. In the Scheingold case the attorneys for the Retail Merchants' Association claim that Scheingold advertised all wool serge pants for $2.95, but they were not all wool.—American Press.

IODIDE OF NITROGEN.

An Explosive So Deadly That to Make it is Suicide.

Explosives are solids which under certain conditions suddenly change into heated gas occupying many times the original space of the solids.

Ordinary gunpowder when fired turns into gas, of which the volume is 4,000 times as great as that of the powder. No wonder the bullet in front of it leaves the muzzle of the rifle in a hurry.

Today there are scores, even hundreds, of different sorts of explosives known to science. Some, such as lyddite, require a very considerable shock to explode them. Others, such as nitroglycerin, are fearfully dangerous to handle, for a few extra degrees of warmth or a very slight jar is sufficient to turn them instantly into gas.

Of the latter type there is nothing quite so unstable as iodide of nitrogen. It has to be made in alcohol. When allowed to dry it appears as a brown powder, and so unstable is this powder that a touch with a feather will set it off. The experiment has been tried of leaving a few grains upon a table mixed with a few grains of sugar. The first bluebottle that flew on the table and began to crawl among the grains caused an explosion.

The mere jarring of the air by a loud shout or a heavy footstep is sufficient to detonate iodide of nitrogen, and it need hardly be added that no one in his senses would attempt to make this terrible stuff. To do so in any quantity would be equivalent to committing suicide.—Pearson's Weekly.

BRINGING UP CHILDREN.

There Are Some Curious Customs in This Queer World.

There has been much discussion over the proper bringing up of children, but ideas continue to differ. And the farther you get away from home the stranger the ideas seem.

The Filipino father cries out with proud delight as his three-year-old girl baby takes her puff at her first cigar.

Among the Seri Indians of the gulf of California the father is the last one expected to have any influence on the children. The mother rules the younger members of the family, and when she must enforce her authority by physical force she calls, not on the father, but on one of her brothers or some other male adult of her family. The father must never chastise his children.

A Navajo father administers punishment to his children very much as any other father does, but the Navajo boy has a means of protection denied to white boys. He has only to catch a rat by his own unaided efforts. From the moment he has accomplished this feat, no matter how young he may be, his father may not lay hands on him.

The children of the Point Barrow Eskimos have special training in politeness to foreigners. In conversing with strangers who make mistakes in the native dialect children must carefully note those mistakes and repeat them, even to imitating the wrong pronunciation of words. To speak correctly in such a case is likely to bring punishment from the parent of the child.—New York Sun.

Retold For Choir Singers.

One of the wealthy members of a fashionable church in Boston approached her pastor with the complaint that she was greatly disturbed by one of her neighbors.

"It's positively unbearable," said she. "That man in the pew in front of us destroys all my devotional and pious feelings when he attempts to sing. Couldn't you ask him to change his pew?"

The good pastor was sorely perplexed. After a few moments' reflection he said:

"Well, I naturally would feel a little delicacy on that score, more especially as I would have to give a reason. But I will tell you what I might do." Here the pastor's face became illuminated with a happy thought. "I might ask him to join the choir."—Harper's Magazine.

WELFARE LEAGUE DECLINES PROPOSAL OF PICTURE MEN

At a meeting of the Advisory Board of the Welfare Association held Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the members respectfully declined to accept the proposal made this week by picture theater men with regard to Sunday picture shows.

For the benefit of persons who had gained the impression that the Welfare Association had been considering the matter previous to its meeting, either favorably or unfavorably, the following statement was issued by an officer of the organization Saturday.

"The proposition of the picture shows was not presented to the Association until Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the Advisory Board held its meeting, and consequently could not have been considered by it, either favorably, or unfavorably, prior to this time.

"The Board, with full appreciation of past kindness shown by the picture men, and with due respect for their good intentions, unanimously declined the offer, in the belief that in so doing they were conserving the best interests of the society.

"Every movement of the society thus far has been with the unanimous approval of the board, and since the society represents all classes and organizations, and hopes to receive their continued support, the present Advisory Board will not lend its aid to, or accept, any proposition which might cause discord in the workings of the society or meet the disapproval of any large class of people."

The suggestion of the picture men was that the Welfare Association determine whether it would accept a per cent of Sunday receipts in case picture shows open on Sunday.

In Social Circles

The Junior set has enjoyed an unusually gay vacation season, but no prettier parties have been cataloged in "the buds'" social calendar than the progressive "Harlequin" party, given by Miss Edith Worthington, for the very attractive guests of her house party, Misses Charlotte Martin and Hazel Knight, of Columbus; Miss Genevieve Meyers, of Greenfield; Miss Ruth Beitzer, of Covington, Ky., was also in the receiving line.

Cool summer colors, lavender and white, were used in decoration, with stately gladioli and fragrant sweet peas artistically arranged throughout the rooms.

Seven tables were at play, Miss Martin winning the favor in the game, lavender silk hose.

The charming young hostess served delicious fruit punch throughout the afternoon, and a dainty refectation, introducing the color scheme, at the games close.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. William Worthington and daughter, Jean, and Miss Beitzer.

Guests from out of town were Miss Dorothea McDowell, Miss Katharine Parker, of Bloomingburg, and Miss Ruth Hagler, of Hagler's.

Mrs. R. T. McClure charmingly entertained the "500" club, with an additional table of guests, Friday afternoon. A profusion of summer flowers, poppies, sweet peas and nasturtiums graced the rooms and a refreshing summer collation followed the game.

Mr. Charles Allen is a business visitor in Cincinnati today.

Mrs. Frank Rothrock is entertaining Miss Ruth Oppenheimer, of Tampa, Florida, and Miss Helen Richie, of Madisonville.

Mr. J. M. Hughey, of Chillicothe, will be the Sunday guest of Mrs. J. W. Hughey. His daughter Mrs. Harold Brann, and little daughter Ruth, of Centralia, Ill., who have been visiting Mrs. H. C. Ireland, will accompany him home Sunday evening.

Miss Mable Pavey arrived from Columbus Saturday to be the guest of Mrs. Val McCoy for the next two weeks.

Mary Jane Stutson, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norton Stutson, is visiting her uncle, Mr. Frank L. Stutson, and family.

The Hennessy party, leaving here about a month ago for the Panama-Pacific exposition and western trip, are expected to return this evening or Sunday.

Mrs. Ray Moots and Miss Lucile Boyer are visiting in Jeffersonville.

MOTHER'S TEARS WIN FREEDOM FOR HER BOY

The tears of a heart broken mother triumphed over legal formality in the court of Juvenile Judge Rell G. Allen Saturday morning. Isaac Bennett, will be given another chance.

The mother of the boy is a widow. Unable to support him she had put him in the care of the Children's Home. There his conduct was beyond the control of the officials. He was referred to the Juvenile court.

The grief of the mother, and of the boy too, when it seemed that he must go to the Lancaster Industrial school, was pitiful. The decision of the judge was the signal for a fresh outburst of tears, but they were of a different sort.

GYPSIES ORDERED OUT OF THE CITY

Chief Moore Friday evening ordered out of the city a band of gypsies, ten or twelve in all and occupying three wagons. It was the third time he had run this gang out of Washington in the past week and the nomads were given to understand that there next appearance here would bring about their immediate arrest. They were well out of the city in the twenty minutes allowed them.

Women of the band, entering local stores on the excuse of trying to pick up some money reading palms, have greatly annoyed merchants.

NOTE OF AUSTRIA IS KEEN

Attention Directed to Exports of War Material to Allies.

FULL TEXT OF NOTE GIVEN OUT

Held That the American Government Has Right to Prohibit Formidable Exports of War Material, in View of the Fact That Only One of the Belligerent Parties Can Take Advantage of This Export—Food Embargo Suggested.

Vienna, July 17.—Following is the full official text of the protest by the dual empire of Austria-Hungary to the United States government against the continued shipment of American war munitions to the allies:

"Special attention to the Austro-Hungarian government has from the beginning been drawn to the marked consequences of the fact that for a considerable time in the past there has been, between the United States and England and her allies, a continuous traffic in war material, carried on on a large scale, while both Austria-Hungary and Germany have been completely excluded from the American markets.

Although the Austro-Hungarian government is perfectly convinced that the attitude observed by the American government in this connection has been inspired solely by a desire to maintain the strictest neutrality and to keep within the regulations set forth by existing international treaties, the question arises whether the situation which has arisen out of the war, doubtless without any intention on the part of the American government, is not of such a nature that the real intentions of the Washington cabinet have been, as a matter of fact, frustrated and even reversed.

"If this question is answered in the affirmative, and in the view of the Austro-Hungarian government it must undoubtedly so be answered, another question arises directly from it, viz., whether it is not possible and indeed necessary that measures be taken to ensure that desire of the American government to observe strict impartiality toward all belligerent parties shall be satisfied.

"The Austro-Hungarian government without hesitation and without reservation answers this question also in the affirmative.

"All authorities on the subject of international law maintain that a neutral government is not permitted to allow unhindered traffic in contraband of war if such traffic is of such kind or reaches such proportions as to compromise the neutrality of the government in question.

"On whatever basis of scientific criteria the supposed legitimacy of contraband traffic be founded, it must, nevertheless, be concluded that export of war material from the United States, such as is taking place during the present war, is not in conformity with the practice of strict neutrality.

Austria's Suggestion.

"It follows equally that there is no reason whatever why the right can be denied to the American government to put an end to this flagrant and formidable export of war material by the prohibition of such exports, more particularly in view of the fact that it is well known that only one of the belligerent parties can take advantage of this export. The American government can in no way be blamed if it exerts this admitted right and decides to pass a special act with a view to maintaining its position in conformity with the claims of international law. As regards the possible objection that, notwithstanding the willingness of American traders to furnish supplies to Austria-Hungary, as well as to England and her allies, the United States, owing to the conditions of war obtaining, are not able to carry on trade with Austria-Hungary and Germany, it may be pointed out that the government of the United States is undoubtedly well able to deal with this objection.

"It would, for instance, be quite sufficient for the purpose to notify the enemies of Austria-Hungary and Germany that the supply of food and war materials will be stopped if legal traffic in those articles between America and the central powers of Europe is not permitted. The American government, if disposed to act in this sense, would not only be following the traditions of protection of the lawful trade by sea, which always has been respected in America, but would at the same time reap great moral reward by restraining the criminal efforts of the enemies of Austria-Hungary and Germany to utilize hunger as their ally.

"Austria-Hungary therefore, taking into consideration the excellent relations which have always existed between America and the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, makes this entirely friendly appeal to the government of the United States asking the government to reconsider, in the light of explanations set forth, the attitude it has observed in regard to this most important matter."

SEVENTH WONDER

By Associated Press.

Dunkirk, France, July 17.—The Germans are now using a metal-destrating liquid on the western front, similar to that which they have used for some time against the Russian wire entanglements.

The liquid is contained in a cylinder under high pressure. The cylinder is carried on a soldier's back like a fire extinguisher; the turning of a lever releases the liquid which is thrown in a stream about ten feet against the barbed wire, burning it through more quickly than wire cutters could sever it.

ESCAPES SERVICE THROUGH WEDLOCK

By Associated Press.

Havre, July 17.—Among instances of attempted evasion of military service recently noted here, one of the most unusual is the stratagem of an engineer, who served some time at the front and then came home on leave. He was determined not to go back, and set about finding a way.

He is the father of three children, thus lacking three to be exempt from military service. However, just before his leave was up, he was married to a widow, the mother of three, and this freed him from further service.

A few days after the wedding he received a letter of congratulation signed by the members of his company. It said:

"Congratulations; you are a hero. May you never sigh for the peace of the trenches!"

LIVES AND PROPERTY ARE LOST

Central Ohio Suffers Big Damage to Property and Crops.

Lima, Where Three Fatalities Occurred, the Worst Sufferer, 1,500 Being Driven From Their Homes and $500,000 in Property Lost—Crops in Vicinity of Kenton Washed Away. Swell in the Scioto.

Columbus, July 17.—Floods which raced through towns and cities in central Ohio, following torrential rains, took a toll of four lives and caused a property damage estimated at more than $2,000,000. Conditions in several cities virtually equaled those of the floods of 1913, when more than 500 lives were lost in Ohio. Hundreds of acres of land are under water and vast areas are imperiled by weak levees and embankments.

Lima, where three of the four lives were lost, is probably the worst sufferer. Late reports are that more than 1,500 persons are homeless and the property loss is more than half a million dollars. The dead there are: James Logue, claim agent of the Ohio Electric company, electrocuted; Arthur Jackson, negro, drowned while aiding in relief work, and Mrs. Laura Bercaw, killed in an explosion of gas.

From all about Lima and other cities has come reports of devastated farms. Oats still uncut are ruined, hay stacks have been washed away, and the corn crop in many districts has been ruined.

Kenton is facing a serious situation because of the wiping out of a 2,000,000 bushel crop of onions. Many fortunes of comfortable size have been wiped out among the growers.

The crest of the floods in the Ottawa river at Lima and the Scioto river at Kenton has passed, and only renewed rains can make the situation in these cities worse. At Kenton the water was within seven inches of the 1913 mark.

Passes 1913 Stage.

At Kenton the Scioto river passed the 1913 flood stage. The Kenton waterworks is submerged and the city is without fire protection. The rainfall has been the heaviest in the history of the city. Refugees are coming into the city from the nearby villages of Alger, McGuffey and Foraker, and report the oats crop gone and many buildings wrecked and live stock killed. The farmers will suffer heavy losses, many losing everything.

Citizens of Larue, frightened when the Scioto overflowed its banks, put a hole through the Big Four railway embankment to let the water escape. The Big Four agent, W. J. Schlager, and Detective John Kernan tried to prevent interference with the company's property. The agent was pitched into the water and the detective placed in jail. The track was so badly damaged by the escaping flood that all trains are being detoured.

While weather bureau officials and the city authorities do not look for a flood in Columbus, the situation is menacing. Because of the great amount of water flowing down the channel, it was recognized that breaks in the levees would spell ruin for West Side homes and factories. Lowlands along the Scioto, Olentangy and Alum creek are submerged. Enormous damage was done to fields of growing crops in the vicinity of Columbus. In many places highway traffic was cut off.

At the storage dam, north of the city, the Scioto became stationary when it reached a crest of 77.9 feet. Thousands of residents on the West Side are ready to move.

Farmers in the Scioto valley will suffer much loss.

Crops in Licking county have been badly damaged. Several horses were killed in the storm.

The Muskingum river has risen eight feet at Zanesville. A number of creeks are out of their banks.

Cambridge Hard Hit.

Cambridge, O., July 17.—The most furious hail, wind and rainstorm in many years visited Cambridge. County School Superintendent W. G. Wolfe was badly injured when two large windows crashed about his head at the courthouse.

Freaks of the almanac for 1915 do not interfere with the regulation length of nights and days.

ENGLISH GIRLS WORK ON FARMS

London, July 17.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Farm work for women has become fashionable. College girls from Newnham, Oxford and almost the entire enrollment from Sheffield University are among the volunteers for war work in the fields, and girls who had previously devoted all their energies to sport and fashion are making a fad of it.

A special costume for women farmers has been designed and exhibited at a women's farm work show given by Lady Cowdry at her London home. The suit is made of tough brown linen fashioned into a long coat buttoned down the front. Kinck-erbockers of the same material are worn underneath, buttoning below the knee. This costume is not only cheap, but allows as much freedom of movement as man's dress. Because of the knickers, the women farmers can climb trees for pruning or picking fruit. At Lady Cowdry's exhibition, every branch of farm work was represented, dairying, gardening, orchard work and work in the fields.

Some prejudice is encountered on the part of the old fashioned farmers. When they receive an application for work from a girl who looks like the dairymaid of a comic opera, they are inclined to give a refusal on the spot. Most of the applicants have little idea of what real farm-work is like. They think of a rose covered cottage, with tea served in the garden among the flowers and an arcadian existence. But they are willing to learn about pigs, chickens, and stock, and generally do well at fruit picking and hay raking.

GERMANS PUSH DIAMOND TRADE

London, July 17.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—One German industry that the British blockade is unable to touch relates to diamonds. When the war broke out, a German syndicate found itself with a stock of rough diamonds worth over $7,500,000, which had been bought in German Southwest Africa. This syndicate now hires expert Belgian cutters at low wages and disposes of the stones in the United States by way of Holland.

The United States is now practically the only country buying diamonds, and the market there seems as brisk as ever.

Production of stones has practically stopped, since the mines in South Africa are closed down, their engineering staffs disbanded and native laborers repatriated. It will take a long time after peace is declared before the industry is restored to its old proportions.

PLUM BORER FEEDS ON INJURED TREES

Washington, D. C., July 17.—The American plum borer, an insect which attacks impartially plum, cherry, peach, and apple trees, has been found by investigators of the United States Department of Agriculture, to confine itself entirely to those trees which have received previous injury. It is, it is said, entirely unable to establish itself upon vigorous, healthy, uninjured trees and for this reason except in occasional cases, is unlikely to become a pest of more than ordinary importance. It is frequently found, how-

Newspaper Advertising

Goes direct to the people and the people constitute the buying public. Newspaper advertising not only talks but it emphasizes; it has the undivided attention of the reader and covers a field no salesman can hope to reach. There are many styles in newspaper advertising and the small announcement, which costs only five cents, is just as effective in its way as the larger one, which costs proportionately more. The benefits to be derived can not be measured by the size of the ad. for the very good reason that the small, inexpensive announcement invariably proves effective. Newspaper advertising costs from five cents up to any price the advertiser desires to pay.

BIG LEAGUE STARS SHINE OUT BRIGHTLY

By Associated Press.
Chicago, July 17.—Captain Larry Doyle of the Giants has attained second place among the batters of the National League. His average of .326 credited to him in averages published here today puts him right on the heels of the league leader, Daubert of Brooklyn, whose percentage is .336. Next to these two, the leading batters who have played in at least half of the games are: Groh, Cincinnati, .321; Luderus, Philadelphia, .320; Robertson, New York, and Cravath, Philadelphia tied with .301; Whitted, Philadelphia, .300; Wade Killifer, Cincinnati, .299; Saier, Chicago and Wilson, St. Louis, tied with .298; H. Zimmerman, Chicago, .297; Snyder, St. Louis, .292; Collins, Pittsburgh, and J. Smith, Boston, tied with .291.

New York leads the club batting with .258 and Chicago is next with .256.

Saier leads the league in stolen bases, with 21; in total bases, with 152, and in runs scored with 50. Cravath has most homeruns—13.

Leading National league pitchers who have acquired .600 averages in 15 or more games are: Pierce of Chicago, won 9 and lost 1; Alexander, Philadelphia, 17 and 5; Mamaux, Pittsburgh, 13 and 4; Dale, Cincinnati, 10 and 5; Mayer, Philadelphia, 13 and 7; Meadows, St. Louis, 8 and 5; Pfeiffer, Brooklyn, 8 and 5; Bell, Brooklyn, 9 and 6.

Alexander has 138 strikeouts to his credit.

In the American League, Cobb has increased his average to .409 and still leads in stolen bases, with 56 and in runs scored at 90. Crawford, Detroit, has most total bases with 169 and Caldwell, Boone, and Peckinpaugh, of New York, Oldring of Philadelphia and Kavanaugh of Detroit are tied for home run honors at 4 each. Following Cobb are: Crawford, Detroit, .346; E. Collins, Chicago, .341; Jackson, Cleveland, .333; Fournier, Chicago, .328; Veach, Detroit, .321; Malsel, New York, .316; Strunk, Philadelphia, .314; Speaker, Boston, and Lajoie, Philadelphia, tied with .311.

Jim Scott has wrested the pitching leadership from Faber, his team mate. The "600 pitchers" of the American league are: Scott, Chicago, won 13 and lost 3; Faber, Chicago, 16 and 5; Foster, Boston, 10 and 4; Daus, Detroit, 12 and 7; Fisher, New York, 11 and 6; Shore, Boston, 7 and 4; Benz, Chicago, 7 and 4; Gallia, Washington, 8 and 5; Ruth, Boston, 8 and 5; Coveleskie, Detroit, 11 and 7; Johnson, Washington, 12 and 8; Caldwell, New York, 12 and 8; Boland, Detroit, 6 and 4. Chicago and Detroit are tied in club batting with .269 for first honors.

In the Federal league, the leaders

war themes, using great personages to keep up the interest. The idea which the lay mind gets of war is of something always dramatic and terrible. This is an error. War is exceedingly commonplace in the main. The strong, dramatic spots are comparatively few. So, while it is difficult to build up masterpieces on war material, it is possible, as has been proved in all ages, to create war fiction and war poetry at once vivid and edifying. The almost universal horror of war comes from studying about it in books and pictures. And there remains more to be written and painted.

DAHL-MILLIKAN PARTY RETURNS FROM OUTING

Everyone Delighted With Trip—Six Hundred Persons on Excursion.

The Dahl-Millikan outing party returned from the 1915 trip to Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Toronto, Canada, at six o'clock Friday night, as enthusiastic a crowd of people as ever poured out of the station.

"The best time we ever had—"the greatest trip on record"—"something doing all the time" was the overflow of the conversation as it came to the ears of the Herald reporter.

It was indeed a wonderful trip, 650 people royally entertained for a week without a hitch or a disappointment of any kind. Even the weather, sizzling hot in Fayette, was ideal in the region of the trip.

The entire trip went through practically on schedule time, notwithstanding the large number in the party. The size of the party aroused interest everywhere. To see a line of street cars a over block long waiting for one party was a sight seldom witnessed.

At Detroit the crowd formed a solid mass from the railway station down the street through the intervening blocks to the wharf, where the steamer waited.

All along the line the party was complimented on its appearance and quietness.

It would be impossible to give any adequate idea of the pleasures of the trip. By no means the least was the lake ride on the City of Cleveland, a magnificent boat, with the finest service and meals that were in the class of banquets.

The nights, both coming and going were perfect. Dancing, orchestral music, a colored glee club and monologist contributed to the boat's entertainment.

At the Falls the party was given the same high class entertainment at the International and the Cataract Hotels. The Gorge ride and lake trip to Toronto, with dancing and music on the boat, were two of the greatest pleasures of the trip.

At Toronto autos were lined up to meet the party and there was a beautiful sight seeing trip through the noted English city. An elegant dinner of Scourses, served in the English style, at the handsome Carls-rite Hotel, was a feature of the day.

There was no lack of amusement upon returning to the Falls, with a private dance for the party at night. Returning many enjoyed sight seeing in Buffalo.

Everywhere the party was given every attention and preference; hotels, boat and railroad management vying with each other in the matter of extending courtesies.

The diner service of the C. H. & D. met with general approval.

The Dahl-Millikan management, under the personal direction of the General Manager, Mr. Wm. M. Campbell, ably assisted by its salesmen, was indeed remarkable in being able to handle so large a party without one untoward incident or a single disgruntled guest.

The management felt well repaid by the appreciation of the trip as expressed by patrons.

It is understood that the Dahl-Millikan Co. has under consideration next year one of two trips. One to Niagara Falls over the Gorge route to Clayton and Toronto and from there by boat to the Thousand Islands and Alexandria Bay; the other to Washington, D. C.; Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Definite announcements have not yet been given out.

INTEREST CENTERS IN WHEAT HARVEST

The advancing threshing season is bringing in better returns in wheat than was at first expected, although the ravages of the fly and the constantly wet weather and storms has greatly reduced what would have been a bumper crop.

The largest yield that has as yet been learned is 31½ bushels threshed from a small field on the John Zimmerman farm on the Prairie pike. Hon. H. L. Hadley had 28½ bushels on one of his farms below Buena Vista, where the wheat was so badly down that quite a good deal of it could not be cut.

Marion Wilson, on the Howat farm reports 29½ bushels.

It is as yet too soon to tell the average yield but fields seem to be running from 5 to 20 bushels, with an occasional return of 25 bushels or above.

The town has been almost deserted by farmers in the rush of the harvest this week. These hot nights are bringing the corn on splendidly.

STORM DAMAGE RAPIDLY REPAIRED

Storm damage is being rapidly repaired on the public school grounds.

The fire wall of the beautiful High school building has been replaced; the trees trimmed and grounds cleared of trunks, limbs and debris at Central.

The work at Central was finished this afternoon and work begins at Cherry Hill Saturday.

SEEK JUDGMENT ON A PROMISSORY NOTE

Truman B. Mills and Truman B. Gest, through their attorney, E. L. Bush, brought suit in the common pleas court Saturday against Mary G. Clement, Ward Clement, and Frank Fullerton, seeking judgment in the amount of $1,500, alleged to be due on a promissory note, with interest from March 25, 1915.

FUNGUS RUINS WHEAT CROP

By Associated Press.
London, July 17.—A parasitic fungus which attacks wheat has appeared in the south of England and threatens serious damage. The disease is one which has caused damage on the continent, but only one attack has heretofore been recorded in England, and that dating as far back as 1862.

The appearance of the diseased plants is very noticeable. The flag and young portions of the stem assume a tightly cork-screwed form, the plant loses its green color, small patches of rust break through the leaf tissue and the plant dies.

The only remedy, it is said, is to burn the standing crop. The government agricultural authorities are taking steps to combat the invasion.

SLIGHT CHANGE IN ATHLETICS' LINEUP

The absence of Hagerty and Cotterill from the city will work a slight change in the lineup of the Athletics when they play the New Holland Giants at New Holland tomorrow afternoon.

Hickey will play first base and Linson will hold down the slab. The lineup follows: Hickey, 1b; Corwin, ss; Runnels, 2b; Grandle, rf; Noon, lf; Lewis, 3b; Hedgecock, c; Jones, cf; Linson, p; Ross, utility.

SIZZLING TEMPERATURE HAS ITS FIRST VICTIM

Billy Hedrick, counter man at the Haggard Restaurant, is the first reported victim of the torrid weather which has continued for several days. Hedrick crumpled at his post Saturday morning, prostrated by the heat.

Immediate application of first aid brought the stricken man back to consciousness. He was taken to his home on East Market street. His condition is not thought to be serious.

WESLEY CHAPEL WINS A GAME AFTER ALL

The Wesley Chapel ball team finally won a game. Friday evening it defeated the fast Methodists, 7 to 3. Leach was hit hard. The victory is the first of the season for the Wesleyans. The game went but three innings, being started late. The score by innings follows:

HOUDON, THE SCULPTOR.

Known in This Country Mainly by His Statue of Washington.

Since the days of the cathedral builders France has never been without great masters of the chisel. Traditions and an ever accumulating skill have been passed on as from father to son through generations immemorial. With all that "apostolic succession" of genius we of another race are strangely unfamiliar. One name, however, we associate with that of our first president, and for this reason, and not because Jean Antoine Houdon was the leading sculptor of his time, is he sometimes mentioned in the United States.

As the "first sculptor of his day" Houdon was invited in 1784 by Thomas Jefferson, representing the state of Virginia, to make a statue of General Washington. On July 28, 1785, the sculptor with three assistants sailed in the company of Benjamin Franklin from Southampton, bound for Philadelphia. The journey required nearly two months and Houdon did not arrive at Mount Vernon until Oct. 2.

Two weeks were occupied in modeling the bust, making a life mask, and taking many measurements, with all of which the artist departed rejoicing, and, thanks to the rapid ocean service of the time, was home again on Christmas day.

The result of this trip was the notable marble which stands in the state house at Richmond, our most trustworthy portrait of the first president.—Scribner's.

IMITATION DIAMONDS.

They Lose Their Sparkle When They Lose Their Sharp Edges.

Only the expert can tell an imitation diamond from a real stone when the imitation is new, but after the fake stone has been worn for a little time it soon loses its lustre. It is this which makes a real diamond valuable. No matter how long it is worn it will keep its sparkle almost as well as ever.

The real reason for this is the hardness of the diamond. It is not due to any special quality in the stone itself, except its transparency and its hardness.

The sparkle of a diamond depends on the sharpness of the edges and the points of its facets. When the light falls on one of these it is reflected to another facet, lying at a different angle and is refracted again, and so on, many times. Each time the light is reflected it gives a point of brilliance, and, in most instances, splits up the light so that the red and blue rays are seen.

The imitation stone, to begin with, seldom has as many facets as a diamond. But, even if it had, the sharpness of these edges would wear off. Even exposure to the air will wear away any substance that is not extremely hard. And just as soon as there is any dulling of the edges of a facet, so soon there is a dimming of the brilliance of the stone.—New York American.

CALLED THE GAME.

Two Foul Balls Shocked the Australian Sense of Propriety.

A game of baseball that was scheduled as a feature of the police and firemen's patriotic carnival at the agricultural show grounds came to an abrupt and dramatic conclusion almost before it was started. It was a match game, America versus Australia.

In America's second inning a player deflected a fast ball straight for the densest portion of the crowd, and a scream was heard. The ambulance men rushed to the spot and found that a woman had been struck on the head by the ball, but was not seriously injured.

Without waiting to see if any damage had been done the players coolly procured another ball and continued the game just as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened. A few moments later this ball was also deflected to the upper story of the pavilion, striking a man in the shoulder.

At this Mr. Flowers, the minister for health, who was present, rushed out on to the ground and called out: "Stop this silly game!"

The players promptly obeyed his orders, and play ceased.—Sydney (Australia) Herald.

The City.

Cities are made, not born. No two cities are alike. The sum of one city is never equal to all the parts of another. Once a city, not always a city; sometimes only a dust heap. A city is made up of a part of the country filled with inhabitants. It consists of houses, streets and debts. No city is complete without a hospital and a franchise plant. The hospital is used to shelter its victims and to provide its surgeons with plenty of working material. The franchise plant enables it to support politicians. A city without politicians would be like a steam laundry without any steam.

Cities are an antidote for farms. Up to date, however, no cure has been found for the antidote.—Life.

The Stuart Penny.

A pamphlet published in 1677, entitled "The Worth of a Penny, or, a Caution to Keep Money, With the Causes of the Scarcity and Misery of the Want Thereof in These Hard and Merciless Times," contains a list of articles obtainable for a penny in the days of Charles II. These include "a dish of coffee to quicken your stomach and refresh your spirits," "a fair cucumber" and "portions of such commodities as nuts, vinegar, grapes, cake, onions and oatmeal." The catalogue of penny-worths obtainable at an apothecary's is a lengthy one and includes "lettuce to make you sleep, mithridate to make you sweat and aniseed, which may save your life in a fainting or swoond."—London Mirror.

Odd Name Oddly Won.

The Inn known as the "Same Yet," at Prestwich, has a curious history, which Mr. Hackwood relates: "The house originally bore the 'Seven Stars,' but many years ago it became necessary to have its faded sign repainted. When the painter asked the landlord what he was to put on the board he received the answer, 'The same yet.' And the man took him at his word."—London News.

Washington Is Shocked By Effort to Sink Orduna

Captain of Big Cunard Liner, Reaching New York, Reports German Submarines Attacking the Vessel Without Warning --Carried 227 Passengers, 21 of Whom Were Americans—Washington Recalls Ambassador Bernstorff's Word Given to Secretary Lansing That There Would Be No Repetition of the Lusitania Horror

By Associated Press.

New York, July 17.—The British liner Orduna, with 227 passengers aboard, 21 of whom were Americans, was attacked without warning by a German submarine at 6 o'clock in the morning of July 9, 16 hours out of Liverpool on her way to New York.

Announcement of this attack was made by the ship's captain, Thomas Taylor, and passengers, when the Orduna reached here today. A torpedo was fired at the steamer and missed it by ten yards.

Twenty minutes later a submarine rose to the surface, possibly a different submarine from the one that launched the torpedo, and for half an hour thereafter pursued the steamer, firing shells which whistled over the decks above the heads of passengers standing there with their life belts on.

Ten minutes before the attack a sailing ship, with two American flags painted on her sides, was seen ahead. Captain Taylor became suspicious of this craft and began manoueuering his ship. Then came the attack, the first warning of which was the streak of a torpedo, which whirled through the water and missed the Orduna's stern by ten yards or thereabouts.

Passengers were hurriedly aroused and assembled on deck. Life belts were adjusted and lifeboats swung out. For half an hour the submarine pursued the liner which was going ahead at full speed.

Seven shots were fired by the submarine, in all. Four of them passed over the decks; the other three fell close to the ship. Then the submarine, distanced, gave up the chase.

Captain Taylor refused to say anything about the attack, except to declare the Orduna was not given the slightest warning. A number of the passengers declared they believed the submarine was hiding behind the sailing ship.

Among the 21 Americans aboard was William O. Thompson, of Chicago, who is counsel for the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations. Mr. Thompson, upon his arrival here, said he would write a protest to Washington, setting forth the details of the attack as he saw it.

Mr. Thompson was very indignant. He said the attack was deliberate, and pointed out it was upon a west-bound liner not heavily laden with cargo and carrying no ammunition whatever. This, he said, he expected to embody in his protest to the administration at Washington.

The day after the attack the first cabin passengers met and formally adopted resolutions lauding Captain Taylor for his conduct and skill.

One passenger, who watched the affair, through glasses, said he thought the name of the sailing ship was the "Normanie." In this connection it was recalled here today that the American bark Normandy reached Liverpool July 12, three days after the Orduna was attacked.

Upon her arrival there, members of her crew said the Normandy was stopped by a German submarine and forced to act as a shield for the submarine while a Russian vessel was sunk. This occurred, the Normandy crew said, on the night of July 9. The Orduna was attacked on the morning of July 9, and the scene of the attack was about 20 miles distant from the spot where the Russian ship was sunk.

Washington, July 17.—News of the attack of the Cunarder Orduna upsets the theory of some officials here that Germany, while not yielding in the American diplomatic demands that unarmed ships be warned of attack in accordance with international law, was, in practice, observing that procedure.

On that theory much hope had been built for the successful effect of the diplomatic representations brought about by the Lusitania disaster.

In spite of their theory, officials had pointed out that the British ships Armenian and Anglo-Californian, on both of which American lives were lost, were warned in accordance with law before attack. Inasmuch as both attempted to escape, and one actually did, the United States held it could give its subjects, in those cases, no relief.

The view that Germany was now conducting her submarine warfare in accordance with the principles for which the United States contends has been so confidently entertained in official quarters, that the attack on the Orduna came as little less than a shock. Only yesterday the German ambassador expressed to Secretary Lansing his confidence that there would not be another disaster like the Lusitania.

Normal Conditions Expected by Tomorrow—West Side Columbus Residents Move to Safety and River Is Constantly Patrolled—Damage in State Is Very Heavy.

By Associated Press.

Lima, July 17.—The Ottawa river has dropped rapidly and by tomorrow will be at normal level. Men are still stationed at the bridges, keeping wreckage from piling up.

Limited traffic has been permitted across all bridges. Families are coming down from higher land and moving back into their houses in the lowlands.

In the portions of the city not touched by the flood much damage was done by flooded cellars, where articles stored were ruined.

Late last night the police rescued half a dozen families marooned on a small island where the force of the water was weakening their houses.

Damage at Harrod, 8 miles east of Lima, was also severe. Fifteen houses were damaged or demolished and the Methodist church was destroyed. Damage to crops will

DISASTER CREDITED TO KAISER

By Associated Press.

London, July 17.—"Torpedoes fired by a submarine of German nationality" caused the loss of the steamship Lusitania and its passengers, according to the findings of the court of inquiry appointed to investigate the disaster. The court held that no blame for the tragedy attached to either Captain Turner, commander of the vessel, nor the Cunard Line, the owners.

The court also found that "the Lusitania was sunk with the intention of destroying the lives of the people on board." The report also declares that life boats and life belts facilities were adequate; that the demeanor of the crew was above all blame, and that the conduct of the passengers, barring a slight panic when the steage passengers came on deck, was praiseworthy.

amount to thousands of dollars.

Columbus, July 17.—With the Scioto river steadily falling, all danger of a possible flood was believed to have passed here today. Although the river reached 18 feet last night, 3 feet below the danger mark, and people of the west side moved out perishable goods, the city today was confident that a repetition of the 1913 disaster was out of the question.

Watchers patrolled the river bank all night and few persons on the west side slept.

The Scioto river at Kenton is now receding. Many houses were flooded there but no lives were lost. The water works plant was submerged but Kenton has fire protection now.

Farmers near Newark and Zanesville report heavy damage to crops from high water, and Delaware and Findlay report that farmers will be the heaviest losers near those cities.

Kenton, O., July 17.—The Scioto river here has gone down two feet in the last 12 hours and flood conditions are improving. Late reports from the Scioto marsh indicate that the entire onion crop, together with corn and potatoes planted later, is a total loss. The damage in this vicinity is estimated at $300,000.

Germans Begin Titanic Offensive Movement Against Russia With Determination to Envelope and Annihilate Her Armies --Russians Drive Austrians Back and Claim a Rout--French Losses at Arras Placed at 74,800 Men.

By Associated Press.

London, July 17.—A new German offensive of huge proportions, with Riga, a great Russian seaport, and the seat of the governor general of the Baltic provinces as its objective, is revealed in the latest Berlin and Petrograd official statements.

Military experts here construed the offensive to be a vast envelopment movement in which the Germans are making a Herculean effort to destroy the Russian army.

Official statements agree that the Germans are at the Windau river, near Goldingen, only 80 miles from Riga, the great strategic commercial metropolis upon the upper Baltic.

Petrograd announces details of fierce fighting along the new line in efforts to hold back the German advance, which now is being concentrated on Riga and on Warsaw, while the Austrians are moving northward from the Dniester river.

Advices say the Germans left a trail of desolation along the Baltic Sea from Memel to Libau, where villas, hotels and casinos are alleged to have been destroyed.

Latest statements from Petrograd say the Russians are holding the Germans to the north of Warsaw, and an unofficial reports says the Austrians have been driven back across the Dneister, where their retreat is being turned in to a rout.

SEEKS LEGAL STATUS FOR EDISON BOARD

Daniels Confident Congress Will Approve His Proposal

Washington, July 17.—If Secretary of the Navy Daniels carries out present plans he will recommend to congress at the coming session that the Edison board of inventions be given a legal status and that a large appropriation be made available to enable Mr. Edison and his associates to conduct experiments on a large scale. The secretary of the navy is confident that congress will approve his proposal to establish this board, which Mr. Daniels believes will evolve ideas and devices that will make the United States navy one of the most formidable fighting machines in the world.

In a discussion Mr. Daniels mentioned that Mr. Edison is already at work on a battery which it is hoped will prove powerful enough to give submarines the wide steaming radius necessary to bring them up to the highest state of efficiency. The Edison battery is to be installed in submarines now building, and if it comes up to expectations it will solve a prob-

Columbus, July 17.—Governor Willis announced the appointment of members of the state liquor license board, as follows: Frank Hay, Republican, of Canton, to succeed Charles L. Allen, Progressive, whose term expires Aug. 1, and M. M. Rose, Republican, of Marietta, to succeed J. Howard Secret, Democrat, who tendered his resignation to take effect Aug. 7. The McDermott district license law, which abolishes the state commission, goes into effect Sept. 3. Hay is a business man, and was secretary of the Stark county Republican executive committee in the last campaign. Rose formerly was postmaster of Marietta. His brother, ex-Senator I. R. Rose, was the author of the Rose county option law. The third member of the commission, Bryan Clendenning, Democrat, will remain.

BECKER'S LIFE IN THE BALANCE

New York, July 17.—Charles Becker's three lawyers, W. Bourke Cockran, John F. McIntyre and Martin T. Manton, spent the day discussing the pros and cons of the John Doe hearing suggested by Mr. McIntyre as a means for proving their client's innocence of the murder for which he is to die on July 28. As far as the net results of their conference could be learned they have not yet definitely decided to drop the plan to bring about such an inquiry, although many obstacles difficult to surmount will present themselves. One of the chief difficulties would be to get Jack Rose and Bridgie Webber to testify at such a hearing. Rose lives in Connecticut and Webber's home is now in Passaic. A subpoena served outside this state would have no power.

THAW SPENDS DAY IN SURF

Hendrick and released from custody on $35,000 bail when the state attorneys objected, left the county courthouse, climbed into an automobile and led a procession of five motorcars into Newark, N. J., where he dined. Great mobs cheered Thaw at Newark. Thaw said he would motor to Pittsburgh, whence he would leave for the San Francisco fair. He is accompanied by Norman Fitzsimmons, his private detective and bodyguard, who will be with Thaw on his proposed motor trip to the Pacific coast. Thaw is spending the day in Atlantic City.

State Road Work Crippled.
Columbus, July 17.—Work of building good roads by the state highway department will be crippled this year because the funds available are $1,250,000 less than the department had to spend last year. State Highway Commissioner Clinton Cowan and State Budget Commissioner Edward M. Fullington, in a joint letter sent to the eighty-eight boards of county commissioners in Ohio, show this decrease of funds was caused by the cut made by the extra session of the legislature in 1914 in the road levy and the necessity of using part of this year's income to care for contracts made by Former Commissioner Marker in excess of the funds he had at his disposal last year.

GERMANS WILL DENY CHARGES

Cedarhurst, L. I., July 17.—The German government will in the near future issue a new "white book," to refute the charges of Belgian atrocities contained in the Bryce commission report.

It was said at the summer embassy here that the new "white book" will be most painstaking and will give names and dates, specific instances, details and figures in full. It is now being prepared in Berlin and will be made public soon. An English translation will be given out at the embassy here.

Officials connected with the embassy denied any knowledge of the letters that have been sent in quantities to American business men, criticizing arms shipments and warning the recipients to "be careful of the German actor" in this country. The letters are entirely unsanctioned by the embassy, it was said.

Fining the Unfortunates

One police court judge in the United States has hit upon the idea of adopting an ever increasing scale of fines to impose on the habitual drunkards who are, at regularly recurring periods, arraigned at the bar of his court.

That particular judge would increase the fine first assessed by fifty per cent on the second offense and by thirty-three and a third per cent on the third offense and so on up an ever ascending scale.

That plan, of course, is designed to aid in the accomplishment of a very laudable purpose—to punish the drunkard and to put a stop to intemperate drinking.

The plan is in perfect accord with the prevailing idea underlying the present method of procedure in such matters.

It requires, however, very little thought on an ever present problem for one to arrive at the conclusion that there is something vitally wrong in the whole plan of dealing with petty offenders, especially the habitual drunkard.

That the infliction of heavy fines does not assist, appreciably, in reducing the number of unfortunates who daily stand at the bar of the police courts of the land must be admitted.

And, after all is said and done, is it right that organized society—that branch of it charged with law enforcement and the maintenance of order, should obtain a considerable portion of its revenue from the pockets of unfortunates whose families and friends must endure want and suffering because the state has exacted a penalty in money from the breadwinner who falls by the wayside.

Would it not be well to try some other plan for a while since the present one has proven inadequate? Instead of making drunkenness and other derelictions a source of revenue to the state, increasing in a ratio corresponding with the short comings and failures of frail human beings, to assess the fine and exact the penalty from those responsible for the evil? Would it not be better, would it not be more just to collect a toll from the parties responsible, primarily, for the offense than it would be to exact money from the victims of another's wrong?

In the more serious crimes those primarily guilty are visited with the penalty and the victims go free. Why should a different rule obtain as to drunkenness and kindred petty evils and offenses purely social in character?

Would not organized society and the interests of humanity be better served by fining the real culprits and paying over the money collected to those dependent for support upon the efforts of the victim of another's crime?

The taxpayers of the land could well afford to pay the cost of maintaining inferior courts conducted along the lines indicated. The benefit to society in being relieved of the burden of supporting those dependent upon those unfortunates whose money is taken away from them and whose senses are numbed and muscles paralyzed, by the traffickers in that which unfits men for work would certainly exceed the cost of conducting the inferior courts. Would not the other social evils be more quickly stamped out by reaching out for and punishing those who support vice rather than by levying tribute upon those unfortunates condemned to a short life of suffering and anguish?

At any rate those who advocate such a plan—a right about face in the present method, which does seem fundamentally wrong—have the satisfaction of seeing the ranks of those who support them in their contention, growing larger day by day.

Packers Complain of England

The American meat packers are justly indignant over the action of Great Britain in interfering with commerce between this nation and neutral nations.

Enduring in silence as long as possible the operation of a policy adopted by Great Britain which has cost American shippers heavily, the meat packers have now presented their grievances to the State Department asking that some affirmative and positive action be taken by the United States government which will put a stop to conduct absolutely without defense and the only result of which is to hamper, if not entirely destroy, American trade.

American shippers are now boldly asserting that the halting of American vessels engaged in trade with neutral countries is purposely done with a view to destroying the American trade. American shippers also claim that the delays in final action of the prize courts is unreasonable, unnecessary and the result of a determination to render American commerce even with neutral nations, unprofitable.

A policy to kill the American business by unwarranted interruption and unnecessary delays is alleged to be the real purpose of the British authorities operating under a plan designed more to protect English commerce than as a necessary war measure.

The conditions are already serious and fully warrant this nation in adopting a firm policy supporting its demands for relief from oppressive and unnecessary conditions.

This nation must "lay down the law" to England in a manner fully as emphatic as that adopted toward Germany. American lives must be protected from Germany's undersea raiders and American commerce must be protected from destruction by Great Britain's arbitrary seizures.

Poetry For Today

I REMEMBER! I REMEMBER!

I remember, I remember,
 The house where I was born;
 The little window where the sun
 Came peeping in at morn.
 You'd hardly know the old place now
 For dad is up to date,
 And the farm is scientific
 From the back lot to the gate.

The house and barn are lighted
 With bright acetylene.
 The engine in the laundry
 Is run by gasoline.
 We have silos, we have autos,
 We have dynamos and things;
 A telephone for gossip,
 And a phonograph that sings.

The hired man has left us,
 We miss his homely face;
 A lot of college graduates
 Are working in his place.
 There's an engineer and fireman,
 A chauffeur and a vet.,
 Electrician and mechanic—
 Oh, the farm's run right, you bet.

The little window where the sun
 Came peeping in at morn,
 Now brightens up a bathroom
 That cost a car of corn.
 Our milkmaid is pneumatic
 And she's sanitary, too;
 But dad gets fifteen cents a quart
 For milk that once brought two.

Our cattle came from Jersey,
 And the hogs are all Duroc;
 The sheep are Southdown beauties
 And the hens are Plymouth Rock.
 To have the best of everything—
 That is our aim and plan—
 For dad not only farms it,
 But he's a business man.
 —Canadian Courier.

"Know thyself, is good advice," remarked the sage. "But how may a man know himself?"
 "Well," replied the fool, "that's easy enough. All you have to do is to become a candidate for some political office."

 For he knew all there was to learn.
 At eighty he remarked: "By jing!

Sure Thing.

In this I think we'll all agree.
 That he you save or be you fool,
 We'd all fall mighty short if we
 Were measured by the Golden Rule.

Huh!

"You seem to feel right at home when you are in the ring," remarked the sport.
 "I do," replied the prize fighter. "I am a married man."

Luke McLuke Says

The old fashioned pugilistic champion who used to fight with his fists now has a successor who fights with his fountain pen and his mouth.

Ever notice that the man with the least money is always the fellow who has the most places to put it?

Any woman would rather be in style and look like a soured kitchen mechanic out for a night than wear something that is not stylish and look as though she had good sense.

Go into any bedroom in any house in town and you will find that the closet is so jammed full of friend wife's clothes that friend husband has to hang his rags on the floor or on a chair. But if you will listen around for awhile you will hear friend wife bawling out friend husband because she hasn't any clothes.

When a little paperweight is courting a big corn fed girl the paperweight will sit on the corn fed's knee and call her his "little girl" and tell her that he will protect her. And, instead of rapping him with the fly swatter and sweeping him out, the corn fed lets him live because she, too, is in love and believes that the paperweight is the biggest man ever invented.

You can't blame a married man for not wanting to listen to advice when he is downtown. He gets plenty of it when he is at home.

And a woman can tell you that she could have rosy cheeks, too, if she smeared on a lot of rouge and was not content to dab on a little invisible pink.

Before he gets her he thinks she is a bird of paradise. After he gets her he has a suspicion that she belongs a little farther south than paradise.

The fool men never notice what the women are wearing. So the women compel them to pay some attention to what they are not wearing.

Some men waste an awful lot of time telling other people not to waste their time.

What has become of the old fashioned girl who fainted every now and then?

It often happens that you will wonder why a man wears whiskers and then he will have them shaved off and you quit wondering why.

PRESENT AT PRZEMYSL SIEGE

Shrapnel Hits Photo Man With Besieging Troops—Petrograd Grants Him Russian Decoration for Bravery.

It's a long, long way from New York to the place with the unforgettable, unpronounceable name, Przemyśl, but it seems less when one sees certain very fine pictures of the siege in the Pathe News pictures and learns that the special correspondent, Ercole, who took them, has been wounded and decorated for bravery under trying conditions.

When it was learned that Przemyśl was destined to become famous in spite of its name, the Pathe News sent its special war correspondent in Russia, Mr. Ercole, straight to the Galician front to the Russian army besieging the city. He was sent there to get pictures, and he did so. While he was turning his camera he was hit by a piece of shrapnel and painfully wounded, but he did not cease to turn and in consequence has been decorated by the Imperial Government of Russia with the Cross of the Order of St. George.

His films were rushed by way of the Pathe Agencies in Moscow, Stockholm and London to the United States, so on the very day the newsboys were using their 57 different ways of pronouncing Przemyśl to tell the public that the Austrian fortress had fallen, all over the United States people were seeing in the "News" one of the big scoops of the year.

Mr. Ercole is not resting on his laurels. He has been sent to another place where important things are going to happen, and in consequence expects shortly to put over another big scoop.

opinions as Oskar Von Guggen in "Innocent" and the Cadet in "The Lure," has the lead and this picture marks his debut before the camera. Mr. Probert confesses that his first two days of picture acting were little less than torture to him. The sight of the lens staring at him all the time was infinitely more dreadful than the batteries of critical eyes on a big "opening night."

Paul Panzer, after weeks of successful vaudeville touring, returns to the screen again in this picture. Mr. Panzer, it will be remembered, made himself the best-bated villain in the country through his work as "Owen" in "The Perils of Pauline."

Other members of the cast are Miss Alma Martin, a popular favorite in the "legitimate," Sam Ryan, who has been in many Pathe pictures, and Charles Bunnell, who was with the Pathe St. Augustine Company in the winter of 1913-14.

The picture required hundreds of supers and Mr. Mackenzie made arrangements for a troop of cavalry, regulars of the United States Army, to appear in a number of stirring scenes.

George Brackett Seltz wrote the scenario.

Decomposing Water.

Water is decomposed or separated into its constituent gases by passing a continuous current of electricity through it. An ordinary zinc and copper voltaic battery gives sufficient amperage and also voltage to separate the oxygen and hydrogen. Oxygen goes to the pole connected with the copper plate and hydrogen to the zinc pole or plate. The volume of hydrogen is double that of the oxygen, and both are chemically pure. Steam, if passed over red hot iron, surrenders its oxygen to the atoms of the metal, while hydrogen is given off pure and free.—New York American.

BRICK POSTOFFICE IS NOW PROSPECT FOR WASHINGTON

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, Following the Economy Program, Adopts a Classification of New Postoffice Building Proposals.

WASHINGTON'S HOPES FOR FINE BUILDING MAY BE SHATTERED

Congressmen From Ohio Valley States Are Emphatic in Their Objections and Promise to Attend to McAdoo if He Persists.

Plans of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to reduce the cost of public buildings and thus to relieve the drain on the national treasury has created quite a rumpus generally. So strong has the opposition been declaring itself that one member of Congress from the Ohio valley states announced that Congress would take Mr. McAdoo "in hand" as soon as it convened even intimating that Congress would "take the hide off the secretary of the treasury for usurping the functions of Congress."

Secretary McAdoo's plan of classification, made public yesterday, includes classes A., B., C., and D.

It is worth Class C. in the secretary's classification with which Washington C. H. people are interested.

Class C.—Buildings that include a postoffice of the second class with receipts of $15,000 or more and of the first class up to $60,000 receipts; valuation of surrounding property that of a second-class city. Character of building to be erected: Brick facing with stone or terra-cotta trimmings; fireproof floors; nonfireproof roof; frames, sashes and doors, wood; interior finish to exclude the more expensive woods and marbles, the latter used only where sanitary conditions demand; public spaces restricted to very simple forms of ornaments.

Under this classification "marble" Government palaces would become dreams in the Ohio valley, and the following cities on the building list would even fail to qualify for sandstone or limestone, and would have to be content with common brick:

Ohio—Alliance, Bellaire, Bellefontaine, Bowling Green, Cambridge, Conneaut, Coshocton, Defiance, Delphos, Elyria, Fremont, Gallipolis, Ironton, Jackson, Kenton, Lancaster, Logan, Lorain, Marion, Martin's Ferry, Massillon, Middletown, Millersburg, Napoleon, New Philadelphia, Niles, Piqua, St. Marys, Salem, Sidney, Steubenville, Tiffin, Urbana, Van Wert, Washington C. H., Wilmington, Wooster, Xenia.

GUY THOMPSON TO BE BURIED HERE

The body of Mr. Guy Thompson, who was killed when his automobile was struck by a B. & O. freight train in Greenfield Friday afternoon, arrived here Saturday at noon in the McCoy ambulance car, and was taken to the McCoy undertaking parlors. It was removed at half past two o'clock to the home of Mr. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Thompson, on Broadway.

Mr. A. J. Thompson reached Greenfield as soon as possible after receiving the sad word Friday afternoon.

While badly crushed the unfortunate man was little disfigured. According to his father, Mr. Thompson had stopped at the street crossing while the switching train passed over the intersection. He then started forward. The train went but a short distance beyond the crossing, throwing a box car into a switch and starting back. This, the man in the automobile apparently did not see, an adjacent factory obstructing his view.

The result was that he was struck by the backing train.

Mr. Thompson's many friends in this city and county were shocked to learn of his death. His widow, left with seven children, the oldest thirteen years, the youngest a baby, was prostrated when the sad news reached her. Mr. Thompson had left home intending to come on to Washington.

Mrs. Thompson arrived this afternoon and funeral arrangements were made after her arrival. Services will be held Monday at the Presbyterian church, Rev. P. J. Henness officiating.

TO BUILD CONCRETE WALL AROUND COURT HOUSE YARD

Commissioners Award Contract to John Markley—Several Bridge Contracts Are Let.

The county commissioners, in session Saturday, awarded a contract to John Markley for the construction of a concrete wall, two and one half feet in height, bordering the court house property on Main and Market streets, from the Sharp memorial to the Sheriff's residence.

The figures of the contract were $476.97. The work is to be undertaken at once. The improvement will prevent the washing of earth from the premises onto the street in rainy weather.

Several bridge contracts also were let at the meeting.

The Oregonian Bridge Company was awarded a contract for the construction of a new steel bridge over Thompson's fork on the Danville pike. The consideration was $942. Contract for concrete abutments for this bridge was given to Hays & Bell. The amount is $707.

The Champion Bridge Company was awarded a contract for the reinforcing, with steel beams, of the flooring in an iron bridge on the Chillicothe pike, near the John Townsley property. The amount of the contract was $120.

IODIDE OF NITROGEN.

An Explosive So Deadly That to Make It Is Suicide.

Explosives are solids which under certain conditions suddenly change into heated gas occupying many times the original space of the solids.

Ordinary gunpowder when fired turns into gas, of which the volume is 4,000 times as great as that of the powder. No wonder the bullet in front of it leaves the muzzle of the rifle in a hurry.

Today there are scores, even hundreds, of different sorts of explosives known to science. Some, such as lyddite, require a very considerable shock to explode them. Others, such as nitroglycerin, are fearfully dangerous to handle, for a few extra degrees of warmth or a very slight jar is sufficient to turn them instantly into gas.

Of the latter type there is nothing quite so unstable as iodide of nitrogen. It has to be made in alcohol. When allowed to dry it appears as a brown powder, and so unstable is this powder that a touch with a feather will set it off. The experiment has been tried of leaving a few grains upon a table mixed with a few grains of sugar. The first bluebottle that flew on the table and began to crawl among the grains caused an explosion.

The mere jarring of the air by a loud shout or a heavy footstep is sufficient to detonate iodide of nitrogen, and it need hardly be added that no one in his senses would attempt to make this terrible stuff. To do so in any quantity would be equivalent to committing suicide.—Pearson's Weekly.

BRINGING UP CHILDREN.

There Are Some Curious Customs in This Queer World.

There has been much discussion over the proper bringing up of children, but ideas continue to differ. And the farther you get away from home the stranger the ideas seem.

The Filipino father cries out with proud delight as his three-year-old girl baby takes her puff at her first cigar.

Among the Seri Indians of the gulf of California the father is the last one expected to have any influence on the children. The mother rules the younger members of the family, and when she must enforce her authority by physical force she calls, not on the father, but on one of her brothers or some other male adult of her family. The father must never chastise his children.

A Navajo father administers punishment to his children very much as any other father does, but the Navajo boy has a means of protection denied to white boys. He has only to catch a rat by his own unaided efforts. From the moment he has accomplished this feat, no matter how young he may be, his father may not lay hands on him.

The children of the Point Barrow Eskimos have special training in politeness to foreigners. In conversing with strangers who make mistakes in the native dialect children must carefully note those mistakes and repeat them, even to imitating the wrong pronunciation of words. To speak correctly in such a case is likely to bring punishment from the parent of the child.—New York Sun.

Retold For Choir Singers.

One of the wealthy members of a fashionable church in Boston approached her pastor with the complaint that she was greatly disturbed by one of her neighbors.

"It's positively unbearable," said she. "That man in the pew in front of us destroys all my devotional and pious feelings when he attempts to sing. Couldn't you ask him to change his pew?"

The good pastor was sorely perplexed. After a few moments' reflection he said:

"Well, I naturally would feel a little delicacy on that score, more especially as I would have to give a reason. But I will tell you what I might do." Here the pastor's face became illuminated with a happy thought. "I might ask him to join the choir."—Harper's Magazine.

WELFARE LEAGUE DECLINES PROPOSAL OF PICTURE MEN

At a meeting of the Advisory Board of the Welfare Association held Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the members respectfully declined to accept the proposal made this week by picture theater men with regard to Sunday picture shows. For the benefit of persons who had gained the impression that the Welfare Association had been considering the matter previous to its meeting, either favorably or unfavorably, the following statement was issued by an officer of the organization Saturday.

"The proposition of the picture shows was not presented to the Association until Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when the Advisory Board held its meeting, and consequently could not have been considered by it, either favorably, or unfavorably, prior to this time."

"The Board, with full appreciation of past kindness shown by the picture men, and with due respect for their good intentions, unanimously declined the offer, in the belief that in so doing they were conserving the best interests of the society. Every movement of the society thus far has been with the unanimous approval of the board, and since the society represents all classes and organizations, and hopes to receive their continued support, the present Advisory Board will not lend its aid to, or accept, any proposition which might cause discord in the workings of the society or meet the disapproval of any large class of people."

The suggestion of the picture men was that the Welfare Association determine whether it would accept a per cent of Sunday receipts in case picture shows open on Sunday.

Judge Frank G. Carpenter has returned after several days visit in Darke county.

Mrs. Karl Dupernell is expected from Detroit, Mich., Saturday evening, and Mrs. Lionell-Maynard Brown, from New York, Sunday, both called by the death of their brother, Mr. Guy Thompson. Dr. Anna Bryson, of Indianapolis, Ind., an aunt, will also arrive Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hitchcock and son Hiram left Saturday on a motoring trip to Cincinnati to visit Mrs. Hitchcock's mother, Mrs. J. D. Stuckey, and family.

Mr. John Hyde is over from Chillicothe looking after farm interests in this county.

Mr. Will E. Dale leaves Sunday morning for Grand Rapids, Mich., to attend the furniture markets.

Mrs. Henry Hixon, two sons Paul and Ralph and daughter Alice, are spending a couple of weeks in Cincinnati with the former's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Suken of Price Hill.

Mrs. Will Gosney and children Laura Bell and Herman left Saturday morning for an extended visit with relatives at Foster and other Kentucky cities.

In Social Circles

The Junior set has enjoyed an unusually gay vacation season, but no prettier parties have been cataloged in "the buds" social calendar than the progressive "Harlequin" party, given by Miss Edith Worthington, for the very attractive guests of her house party, Misses Charlotte Martin and Hazel Knight, of Columbus; Miss Genevieve Meyers, of Greenfield; Miss Ruth Beltzer, of Covington, Ky., was also in the receiving line.

Cool summer colors, lavender and white, were used in decoration, with stately gladioli and fragrant sweet peas artistically arranged throughout the rooms.

Seven tables were at play, Miss Martin winning the favor in the game, lavender silk hose.

The charming young hostess served delicious fruit punch throughout the afternoon, and a dainty refectation, introducing the color scheme, at the games close.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Mrs. William Worthington and daughter, Jean, and Miss Beltzer.

Guests from out of town were Miss Dorothea McDowell, Miss Katharine Parker, of Bloomingburg, and Miss Ruth Hagler, of Hagler's.

Mrs. R. T. McClure charmingly entertained the "500" club, with an additional table of guests, Friday afternoon. A profusion of summer flowers, poppies, sweet peas and nasturtiums graced the rooms and a refreshing summer collation followed the game.

NO CHURCH SERVICE TOMORROW EVENING

MOTHER'S TEARS WIN FREEDOM FOR HER BOY

The tears of a heart broken mother triumphed over legal formality in the court of Juvenile Judge Rell G. Allen Saturday morning. Isaac Bennett, will be given another chance.

The mother of the boy is a widow. Unable to support him she had put him in the care of the Children's Home. There his conduct was beyond the control of the officials. He was referred to the Juvenile court.

The grief of the mother, and of the boy too, when it seemed that he must go to the Lancaster Industrial school, was pitiful. The decision of the judge was the signal for a fresh outburst of tears, but they were of a different sort.

GYPSIES ORDERED OUT OF THE CITY

Chief Moore Friday evening ordered out of the city a band of gypsies, ten or twelve in all and occupying three wagons. It was the third time he had run this gang out of Washington in the past week and the nomads were given to understand that their next appearance here would bring about their immediate arrest. They were well out of the city in the twenty minutes allowed them.

Women of the band, entering local stores on the excuse of trying to pick up some money reading palms, have greatly annoyed merchants.

NOTE OF AUSTRIA IS KEEN

Attention Directed to Exports of War Material to Allies.

FULL TEXT OF NOTE GIVEN OUT

Held That the American Government Has Right to Prohibit Formidable Exports of War Material, In View of the Fact That Only One of the Belligerent Parties Can Take Advantage of This Export—Food Embargo Suggested.

Vienna, July 17.—Following is the full official text of the protest by the dual empire of Austria-Hungary to the United States government against the continued shipment of American war munitions to the allies:

"Special attention to the Austro-Hungarian government has from the beginning been drawn to the marked consequences of the fact that for a considerable time in the past there has been, between the United States and England and her allies, a continued traffic in war material, carried on on a large scale, while both Austria-Hungary and Germany have been completely excluded from the American markets.

Although the Austro-Hungarian government is perfectly convinced that the attitude observed by the American government in this connection has been inspired solely by a desire to maintain the strictest neutrality and to keep within the regulations set forth by existing international treaties, the question arises whether the situation which has arisen out of the war, doubtless without any intention on the part of the American government, is not of such a nature that the real intentions of the Washington cabinet have been, as a matter of fact, frustrated and even reversed.

"If this question is answered in the affirmative, and in the view of the Austro-Hungarian government it must undoubtedly so be answered, another question arises directly from it, viz., whether it is not possible and indeed necessary that measures be taken to ensure that desire of the American government to observe strict impartiality toward all belligerent parties shall be satisfied.

"The Austro-Hungarian government without hesitation and without reservation answers this question also in the affirmative.

"All authorities on the subject of international law maintain that a neutral government is not permitted to allow unhindered traffic in contraband of war if such traffic is of such kind or reaches such proportions as to compromise the neutrality of the government in question.

"On whatever basis of scientific criteria the supposed legitimacy of contraband traffic be founded, it must, nevertheless, be concluded that export of war material from the United States, such as is taking place during the present war, is not in conformity with the practice of strict neutrality.

Austria's Suggestion.
"It follows equally that there is no reason whatever why the right can be denied to the American government to put an end to this flagrant and formidable export of war material by the prohibition of such exports, more particularly in view of the fact that it is well known that only one of the belligerent parties can take advantage of this export. The American government can in no way be blamed if it exercises this admitted right and decides to pass a special act with a view to maintaining its position in conformity with the claims of international law. As regards the possible objection that, notwithstanding the willingness of American traders to furnish supplies to Austria-Hungary, as well as to England and her allies, the United States, owing to the conditions of war obtaining, are not able to carry on trade with Austria-Hungary and Germany, it may be pointed out that the government of the United States is undoubtedly well able to deal with this objection.

"It would, for instance, be quite sufficient for the purpose to notify the enemies of Austria-Hungary and Germany that the supply of food and war materials will be stopped if legal traffic in those articles between America and the central powers of Europe is not permitted. The American government, if disposed to act in this sense, would not only be following the traditions of protection of the lawful trade by sea, which always has been respected in America, but would at the same time reap great moral reward by restraining the criminal efforts of the enemies of Austria-Hungary and Germany to utilize hunger as their ally.

"Austria-Hungary therefore, taking into consideration the excellent relations which have always existed between America and the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, makes this entirely friendly appeal to the government of the United States asking the government to reconsider, in the light of explanations set forth, the attitude it has observed in regard to this most important matter."

SEVENTH WONDER

By Associated Press.
Dunkirk, France, July 17.—The Germans are now using a metal-destraining liquid on the western front, similar to that which they have used for some time against the Russian wire entanglements.

The liquid is contained in a cylinder under high pressure. The cylinder is carried on a soldier's back like a fire extinguisher; the turning of a lever releases the liquid which is thrown in a stream about ten feet against the barbed wire, burning it through more quickly than wire cutters could sever it.

ESCAPES SERVICE THROUGH WEDLOCK

By Associated Press.
Havre, July 17.—Among instances of attempted evasion of military service recently noted here, one of the most unusual is the stratagem of an engineer, who served some time at the front and then came home on leave. He was determined not to go back, and set about finding a way.

He is the father of three children, thus lacking three to be exempt from military service. However, just before his leave was up, he was married to a widow, the mother of three, and this freed him from further service.

A few days after the wedding he received a letter of congratulation signed by the members of his company. It said:
"Congratulations; you are a hero. May you never sigh for the peace of the trenches!"

LIVES AND PROPERTY ARE LOST

Central Ohio Suffers Big Damage to Property and Crops.

Lima, Where Three Fatalities Occurred, the Worst Sufferer, 1,500 Being Driven From Their Homes and $500,000 in Property Lost—Crops in Vicinity of Kenton Washed Away. Swell in the Scioto.

Columbus, July 17.—Floods which raced through towns and cities in central Ohio, following torrential rains, took a toll of four lives and caused a property damage estimated at more than $2,000,000. Conditions in several cities virtually equaled those of the floods of 1913, when more than 500 lives were lost in Ohio. Hundreds of acres of land are under water and vast areas are imperiled by weak levees and embankments.

Lima, where three of the four lives were lost, is probably the worst sufferer. Late reports are that more than 1,500 persons are homeless and the property loss is more than half a million dollars. The dead there are: James Logue, claim agent of the Ohio Electric company, electrocuted; Arthur Jackson, negro, drowned while aiding in relief work, and Mrs. Laura Bergau, killed in an explosion of gas.

From all about Lima and other cities has come reports of devastated farms. Oats still uncut are ruined, hay stacks have been washed away, and the corn crop in many districts has been ruined.

Kenton is facing a serious situation because of the wiping out of a 2,000,000 bushel crop of onions. Many fortunes of comfortable size have been wiped out among the growers.

The crest of the floods in the Ottawa river at Lima and the Scioto river at Kenton has passed, and only renewed rains can make the situation in these cities worse. At Kenton the water was within seven inches of the 1913 mark.

Passes 1913 Stage.
At Kenton the Scioto river passed the 1913 flood stage. The Kenton waterworks is submerged and the city is without fire protection. The rainfall has been the heaviest in the history of the city. Refugees are coming into the city from the nearby villages of Alger, McGuffey and Foraker, and report the oats crop gone and many buildings wrecked and live stock killed. The farmers will suffer heavy losses, many losing everything.

Citizens of Larue, frightened when the Scioto overflowed its banks, put a hole through the Big Four railway embankment to let the water escape. The Big Four agent, W. J. Schlager, and Detective John Kernan tried to prevent interference with the company's property. The agent was pitched into the water and the detective placed in jail. The track was so badly damaged by the escaping flood that all trains are being detoured.

While weather bureau officials and the city authorities do not look for a flood in Columbus, the situation is menacing. Because of the great amount of water flowing down the channel, it was recognized that breaks in the levees would spell ruin for West Side homes and factories. Lowlands along the Scioto, Olentangy and Alum creek are submerged. Enormous damage was done to fields of growing crops in the vicinity of Columbus. In many places highway traffic was cut off.

At the storage dam, north of the city, the Scioto became stationary when it reached a crest of 77.9 feet. Thousands of residents on the West Side are ready to move.

Farmers in the Scioto valley will suffer much loss. Crops in Licking county have been badly damaged. Several horses were killed in the storm. The Muskingum river has risen eight feet at Zanesville. A number of creeks are out of their banks.

Cambridge Hard Hit.
Cambridge, O., July 17.—The most furious hail, wind and rainstorm in many years visited Cambridge. County School Superintendent W. G. Wolfe was badly injured when two large windows crashed about his head at the courthouse.

Freaks of the almanac for 1915 do not interfere with the regulation length of nights and days.

ENGLISH GIRLS WORK ON FARMS

London, July 17.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Farm work for women has become fashionable. College girls from Newnham, Oxford and almost the entire enrollment from Sheffield University are among the volunteers for war work in the fields, and girls who had previously devoted all their energies to sport and fashion are making a fad of it.

A special costume for women farmers has been designed and exhibited at a women's farm work show given by Lady Cowdry at her London home. The suit is made of tough brown linen fashioned into a long coat buttoned down the front. Kinckbockers of the same material are worn underneath, buttoning below the knee. This costume is not only cheap, but allows as much freedom of movement as man's dress. Because of the knickers, the women farmers can climb trees for pruning or picking fruit. At Lady Cowdry's exhibition, every branch of farm work was represented, dairying, gardening, orchard work and work in the fields.

Some prejudice is encountered on the part of the old fashioned farmers. When they receive an application for work from a girl who looks like the dairymaid of a comic opera, they are inclined to give a refusal on the spot. Most of the applicants have little idea of what real farm-work is like. They think of a rose covered cottage, with tea served in the garden among the flowers and an arcadian existence. But they are willing to learn about pigs, chickens, and stock, and generally do well at fruit picking and hay raking.

GERMANS PUSH DIAMOND TRADE

London, July 17.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—One German industry that the British blockade is unable to touch relates to diamonds. When the war broke out, a German syndicate found itself with a stock of rough diamonds worth over $7,500,000, which had been bought in German Southwest Africa. This syndicate now hires expert Belgian cutters at low wages and disposes of the stones in the United States by way of Holland.

The United States is now practically the only country buying diamonds, and the market there seems as brisk as ever.

Production of stones has practically stopped, since the mines in South Africa are closed down, their engineering staffs disbanded and native laborers repatriated. It will take a long time after peace is declared before the industry is restored to its old proportions.

PLUM BORER FEEDS ON INJURED TREES

Washington, D. C., July 17.—The American plum borer, an insect which attacks impartially plum, cherry, peach, and apple trees, has been found by investigators of the United States Department of Agriculture, to confine itself entirely to those trees which have received previous injury. It is, it is said, entirely unable to establish itself upon vigorous, healthy, uninjured trees and for this reason except in occasional cases, is unlikely to become a pest of more than ordinary importance. It is frequently found, how-

THE GREAT CROSS ROADS WHERE BUYER AND SELLER MEET

There's good cheer among rural folks. Harvest is generous. Ohio attendance and exhibits. The State Fair is the cross roads where buyer and seller meet. The business farmer makes wages visiting America's greatest exposition. Premiums are liberal. Catalog may be had by asking. A trip to the State Fair is a profit shopping tour. All signs now indicate record grounds are beautiful, made so by the art of the landscape gardener. The many requests for space assume that the ground will be filled with the newest and the best. Write for catalog and information. Do it now.

In order to prevent infestation by the American plum borer a professional paper of the United States Department of Agriculture, Bulletin No. 261, recommends the precaution of cutting away the dead bark and painting the wounded area on all injured trees with any non-injurious tree paint. After the borer has once established itself the cutting-out method is the only one that can be followed. When the proper conditions are present the plum borer can do considerable damage, and it is therefore advisable to take precautions against it.

BIG LEAGUE STARS SHINE OUT BRIGHTLY

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 17.—Captain Larry Doyle of the Giants has attained second place among the batters of the National League. His average of .326 credited to him in averages published here today puts him right on the heels of the league leader, Daubert of Brooklyn, whose percentage is .336. Next to these two, the leading batters who have played in at least half of the games are: Groh, Cincinnati, .321; Luderus, Philadelphia, .320; Robertson, New York, and Cravath, Philadelphia tied with .301; Whitted, Philadelphia, .300; Wade, Killifer, Cincinnati, .299; Safer, Chicago and Wilson, St. Louis, tied with .298; H. Zimmerman, Chicago, .297; Snyder, St. Louis, .292; Collins, Pittsburgh, and J. Smith, Boston, tied with .291.

New York leads the club batting with .258 and Chicago is next with .256.

Saier leads the league in stolen bases, with 21; in total bases, with 152, and in runs scored with 50.

Cravath has most homers—13. Leading National league pitchers who have acquired .600 averages in 15 or more games are: Pierce of Chicago, won 9 and lost 1; Alexander, Philadelphia, 17 and 5; Mamaux, Pittsburgh, 13 and 4; Dale, Cincinnati, 10 and 5; Mayer, Philadelphia, 13 and 7; Meadows, St. Louis, 8 and 5; Pfeffer, Brooklyn, 8 and 5; Bell, Brooklyn, 9 and 6.

Alexander has 138 strikeouts to his credit.

In the American League, Cobb has increased his average to .409 and still leads in stolen bases, with 56 and in runs scored at 90. Crawford, Detroit, has most total bases with 169 and Caldwell, Boone, and Peckinpaugh, of New York, Oldring of Philadelphia and Kavanaugh of Detroit are tied for home run honors at 4 each. Following Cobb are: Crawford, Detroit, .346; E. Collins, Chicago, .341; Jackson, Cleveland, .333; Fournier, Chicago, .328; Veach, Detroit, .321; Maisel, New York, .316; Strunk, Philadelphia, .314; Speaker, Boston, and Lajoie, Philadelphia, tied with .311.

Jim Scott has wrested the pitching leadership from Faber, his team mate. The "600 pitchers" of the American league are: Scott, Chicago, won 13 and lost 3; Faber, Chicago, 16 and 5; Foster, Boston, 10 and 4; Daus, Detroit, 13 and 7; Fisher, New York, 11 and 6; Shore, Boston, 7 and 4; Benz, Chicago, 7 and 4; Gallia, Washington, 8 and 5; Ruth, Boston, 8 and 5; Coveleskie, Detroit, 11 and 7; Johnson, Washington, 12 and 8; Caldwell, New York, 12 and 8; Boland, Detroit, 6 and 4. Chicago and Detroit are tied in club batting with .269 for first honors.

are: Magee, Brooklyn, .346; Kauff Brooklyn, .341; Walsh, Baltimore, .324; Campbell, Newark, .323; Flack Chicago, .322; Easterly, Kansas City, .322; Cooper, Brooklyn, .319; Yerkes, Pittsburgh, .318; Deal, St. Louis, .314; Fisher, Chicago and Duncan, St. Louis tied with .312.

Kauff leads the league in stolen bases with 25; Konetchy, Pittsburgh in runs scored 48 and total bases, 147, and Walsh, Zwillling, Chicago; Chase, Buffalo, and Konetchy in home runs at 8 each. Brooklyn leads the clubs with .276 and Pittsburgh is second with .264.

RUSSIANS MAKE PRISONERS WORK

By Associated Press.

Petrograd, July 17.—The number of war prisoners at present engaged in agricultural and other work in Russia is given officially at 208,500.

The prospects of a fine harvest have caused a large demand for prisoner laborers for the farms. Their monthly wage is fixed at about $5, or about half the ordinary market rate. Their work is generally proving satisfactory.

A prominent literary man would account for the lack of great war novels on the theory that war is too huge a phenomenon to be exploited in a book. That to cover a big war adequately with the methods of literary art is a big contract must be admitted. Niagara baffles the painter because its grandeur is a thing of motion and sound. The stupendous things in war are isolated from the general movement. A great charge may be portrayed with satisfaction, but when the sensation of seeing it or reading about it is over there remains the question "What was it all about?" and the answer is difficult to convey by art. Many writers have written ably on war themes, using great personages to keep up the interest. The idea which the lay mind gets of war is of something always dramatic and terrible. This is an error. War is exceedingly commonplace in the main. The strong, dramatic spots are comparatively few. So, while it is difficult to build up masterpieces on war material, it is possible, as has been proved in all ages, to create war fiction and war poetry at once vivid and edifying. The almost universal horror of war comes from studying about it in books and pictures. And there remains more to be written and painted.

DAHL-MILLIKAN PARTY RETURNS FROM OUTING

Everyone Delighted With Trip—Six Hundred Persons on Excursion.

The Dahl-Millikan outing party returned from the 1915 trip to Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Toronto, Canada, at six o'clock Friday night, as enthusiastic a crowd of people as ever poured out of the station.

"The best time we ever had—the greatest trip on record"—"something doing all the time"—these were the overflow of the conversation as it came to the ears of the Herald reporter.

It was indeed a wonderful trip, 650 people royally entertained for a week without a hitch or a disappointment of any kind. Even the weather, sizzling hot in Fayette, was ideal in the region of the trip.

The entire trip went through practically on schedule time, notwithstanding the large number in the party. The size of the party aroused interest everywhere. To see a line of street cars a over block long waiting for one party was a sight seldom witnessed.

At Detroit the crowd formed a solid mass from the railway station down the street through the intervening blocks to the wharf, where the steamer waited.

All along the line the party was complimented on its appearance and quietness.

It would be impossible to give any adequate idea of the pleasures of the trip. By no means the least was the lake ride on the City of Cleveland, a magnificent boat, with the finest service and meals that were in the class of banquets.

The nights, both coming and going were perfect. Dancing, orchestral music, a colored glee club and monologist contributed to the boat's entertainment.

At the Falls the party was given the same high class entertainment at the International and the Cataract Hotels. The Gorge ride and lake trip to Toronto, with dancing and music on the boat, were two of the greatest pleasures of the trip.

At Toronto autos were lined up to meet the party and there was a beautiful sight seeing trip through the noted English city. An elegant dinner of Scourses, served in the English style, at the handsome Carls-rite Hotel, was a feature of the day.

There was no lack of amusement upon returning to the Falls, with a private dance for the party at night.

Returning many enjoyed sight seeing in Buffalo.

Everywhere the party was given every attention and preference; hotels, boat and railroad management vied with each other in the matter of extending courtesies.

The diner service of the C. H. & D. met with general approval.

The Dahl-Millikan management, under the personal direction of the General Manager, Mr. Wm. M. Campbell, ably assisted by its salesmen, was indeed remarkable in being able to handle so large a party without one untoward incident or a single disgruntled guest.

The management felt well repaid by the appreciation of the trip as expressed by patrons.

It is understood that the Dahl-Millikan Co. has under consideration next year one of two trips. One to Niagara Falls over the Gorge route to Clayton and Toronto and from there by boat to the Thousand Islands and Alexandria Bay; the other to Washington, D. C.; Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Definite announcements have not yet been given out.

INTEREST CENTERS IN WHEAT HARVEST

The advancing threshing season is bringing in better returns in wheat than was at first expected, although the ravages of the fly and the constantly wet weather and storms has greatly reduced what would have been a banner crop.

The largest yield that has as yet been learned is 31½ bushels threshed from a small field on the John Zimmerman farm on the Prairie pike. Hon. H. L. Hadley had 28½ bushels on one of his farms below Buena Vista, where the wheat was so badly down that quite a good deal of it could not be cut.

Marion Wilson, on the Howat farm reports 29½ bushels.

It is as yet too soon to tell the average yield but fields seem to be running from 5 to 20 bushels, with an occasional return of 25 bushels or above.

The town has been almost deserted by farmers in the rush of the harvest this week. These hot nights are bringing the corn on splendidly.

STORM DAMAGE RAPIDLY REPAIRED

Storm damage is being rapidly repaired on the public school grounds.

The fire wall of the beautiful High school building has been replaced; the trees trimmed and grounds cleared of trunks, limbs and debris at Central.

The work at Central was finished this afternoon and work begins at Cherry Hill Saturday.

SEEK JUDGMENT ON A PROMISSORY NOTE

Truman B. Mills and Truman B. Gest, through their attorney, E. L. Bush, brought suit in the common pleas court Saturday against Mary G. Clement, Ward Clement, and Frank Fullerton, seeking judgment in the amount of $1,500, alleged to be due on a promissory note, with interest from March 25, 1915.

FUNGUS RUINS WHEAT CROP

By Associated Press.
London, July 17.—A parasitic fungus which attacks wheat has appeared in the south of England and threatens serious damage. The disease is one which has caused damage on the continent, but only one attack has heretofore been recorded in England, and that dating as far back as 1862.

The appearance of the diseased plants is very noticeable. The flag and young portions of the stem assume a tightly cork-screwed form, the plant loses its green color, small patches of rust break through the leaf tissue and the plant dies.

The only remedy, it is said, is to burn the standing crop. The government agricultural authorities are taking steps to combat the invasion.

SLIGHT CHANGE IN ATHLETICS' LINEUP

The absence of Hagerty and Cotterill from the city will work a slight change in the lineup of the Athletics when they play the New Holland Giants at New Holland tomorrow afternoon.

Hickey will play first base and Linson will hold down the slab. The lineup follows: Hickey, 1b; Corwin, ss; Runnels, 2b; Grandler, rf; Noon, lf; Lewis, 3b; Hedgecock, c; Jones, cf; Linson, p; Ross, utility.

SIZZLING TEMPERATURE HAS ITS FIRST VICTIM

Billy Hedrick, counter man at the Haggard Restaurant, is the first reported victim of the torrid weather which has continued for several days. Hedrick crumpled at his post Saturday morning, prostrated by the heat.

Immediate application of first aid brought the stricken man back to consciousness. He was taken to his home on East Market street. His condition is not thought to be serious.

WESLEY CHAPEL WINS A GAME AFTER ALL

The Wesley Chapel ball team finally won a game. Friday evening it defeated the East Methodists, 7 to 3. Leach was hit hard. The victory is the first of the season for the Wesleyans. The game went but three innings, being started late. The score by innings follows:

	1	2	3	R	H	E
Methodists	3	0	0	3	4	5
Wesley chapel	1	5	1	7	8	6

The Presbyterians and Wesley Chapel play Tuesday.

HOUDON, THE SCULPTOR.

Known In This Country Mainly by His Statue of Washington.

Since the days of the cathedral builders France has never been without great masters of the chisel. Traditions and an ever accumulating skill have been passed on as from father to son through generations immemorial. With all that "apostolic succession" of genius we of another race are strangely unfamiliar. One name, however, we associate with that of our first president, and for this reason, and not because Jean Antoine Houdon was the leading sculptor of his time, is he sometimes mentioned in the United States.

As the "first sculptor of his day" Houdon was invited in 1784 by Thomas Jefferson, representing the state of Virginia, to make a statue of General Washington. On July 28, 1785, the sculptor with three assistants sailed in the company of Benjamin Franklin from Southampton, bound for Philadelphia. The journey required nearly two months and Houdon did not arrive at Mount Vernon until Oct. 2.

Two weeks were occupied in modeling the bust, making a life mask, and taking many measurements, with all of which the artist departed rejoicing, and, thanks to the rapid ocean service of the time, was home again on Christmas day.

The result of this trip was the notable marble which stands in the state house at Richmond, our most trustworthy portrait of the first president—Scribner's.

IMITATION DIAMONDS.

They Lose Their Sparkle When They Lose Their Sharp Edges.

Only the expert can tell an imitation diamond from a real stone when the imitation is new, but after the fake stone has been worn for a little time it soon loses its lustre. It is this which makes a real diamond valuable. No matter how long it is worn it will keep its sparkle almost as well as ever.

The real reason for this is the hardness of the diamond. It is not due to any special quality in the stone itself, except its transparency and its hardness.

The sparkle of a diamond depends on the sharpness of the edges and the points of its facets. When the light falls on one of these it is reflected to another facet, lying at a different angle and is refracted again, and so on, many times. Each time the light is reflected it gives a point of brilliance, and, in most instances, splits up the light so that the red and blue rays are seen.

The imitation stone, to begin with, seldom has as many facets as a diamond. But, even if it had, the sharpness of these edges would wear off. Even exposure to the air will wear away any substance that is not extremely hard. And just as soon as there is any dulling of the edges of a facet, so soon there is a dimming of the brilliance of the stone.—New York American.

CALLED THE GAME.

Two Foul Balls Shocked the Australian Sense of Propriety.

A game of baseball that was scheduled as a feature of the police and firemen's patriotic carnival at the agricultural show grounds came to an abrupt and dramatic conclusion almost before it was started. It was a match game, America versus Australia.

In America's second inning a player deflected a fast ball straight for the densest portion of the crowd, and a scream was heard. The ambulance men rushed to the spot and found that a woman had been struck on the head by the ball, but was not seriously injured.

Without waiting to see if any damage had been done the players coolly procured another ball and continued the game just as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened. A few moments later this ball was also deflected to the upper story of the pavilion, striking a man in the shoulder.

At this Mr. Flowers, the minister for health, who was present, rushed out on to the ground and called out, "Stop this silly game!"

The players promptly obeyed his orders, and play ceased.—Sydney (Australia) Herald.

The City.

Cities are made, not born. No two cities are alike. The sum of one city is never equal to all the parts of another. Once a city, not always a city: sometimes only a dust heap. A city is made up of a part of the country filled with inhabitants. It consists of houses, streets and debts. No city is complete without a hospital and a franchise plant. The hospital is used to shelter its victims and to provide its surgeons with plenty of working material. The franchise plant enables it to support politicians. A city without politicians would be like a steam laundry without any steam.

Cities are an antidote for farms. Up to date, however, no cure has been found for the antidote.—Life.

The Stuart Penny.

A pamphlet published in 1677, entitled "The Worth of a Penny, or, a Caution to Keep Money, With the Causes of the Scarcity and Misery of the Want Thereof In These Hard and Merciless Times," contains a list of articles obtainable for a penny in the days of Charles II. These include "a dish of coffee to quicken your stomach and refresh your spirits," "a fair cucumber" and "portions of such commodities as nuts, vinegar, grapes, cake, onions and oatmeal." The catalogue of penny-worths obtainable at an apothecary's is a lengthy one and includes "lettuce to make you sleep, mithridate to make you sweat and aniseed, which may save your life in a fainting or swoond."—London Mirror.

Odd Name Oddly Won.

The Inn known as the "Same Yet," at Prestwich, has a curious history, which Mr. Hackwood relates: "The house originally bore the 'Seven Stars,' but many years ago it became necessary to have its faded sign repainted. When the painter asked the landlord what he was to put on the board he received the answer, 'The same yet.' And the man took him at his word."—London News.

Certainly Foolish.

We never heard of a man who tried to free himself of a manslaughter charge by pleading guilty to murder, but an up state man tried to prove he wasn't crazy the other day by claiming he was in love.—Milwaukee Journal.

Fixing the Blame.

The Parson—To whom am I indebted for this visit? The Bridegroom—To Mamie's mother; she thought I'd been courting her long enough, and she said so.—Philadelphia Ledger.

An Exception.

"Nothing can be short and long at the same time."
"What's the matter with a dachshund?"—Baltimore American.
